Thank you once more to you and your colleagues for the facilitation of the President's intervention at the Pioneers of Change summit, we have received fantastic responses from our partners on the opening plenary.

In the meantime, I am delighted to extend the official invitation for Madam President to join us for the virtual Davos Agenda Week which will take place during the traditional "Davos week" in January. In particular, we would be pleased to welcome her in a high-level leadership panel on "Restoring Economic Growth", taking place on 25 January 2021 from 17:15-18:00 CET. Invited as well are the French Economy and Finance Minister Bruno Le Maire, the Managing Director of the IMF Kristalina Georgieva as well as 1-2 business voices of global CEOs. I will let you know about the exact CEO names as soon as they will be defined, hopefully by early next week. For your context, I am attaching the overview of the Davos Agenda, while you will find our press release here.

I thank you in advance for your consideration and very much hope that the President will join us. We would very much appreciate a reply by Wednesday, 4 December.
