Dear Giorgos,

Thank you and your colleagues, [REDACTED], for the meeting last week. It was a real pleasure to meet you again (after so many years, since the last time you mentioned – when [REDACTED] sadly passed). Virtual is not the same as in-person but we already look forward to welcoming you to our offices in the future.

We agree with you that the pandemic has shown that we are stronger together and that the dialogue and cooperation between the public and private sector are crucial to address the issues arising from the health crisis and beyond. We would be honoured to facilitate the dialogue on common healthcare issues between you and the other side of the Atlantic. As said, we stand ready to help and we will get back to you in the following weeks with more concrete proposals for engaging with Commissioner Kyriakides and the Cabinet in the new year.

As a further follow-up, I would also like to share with you the links to our dedicated page on Healthcare. We hope you'll find some interesting material there.

Finally, on behalf of us all, I would like to thank your colleague, [REDACTED], for all her help with the organisation of the meeting. Please do not hesitate to contact me should you require any further information in the meantime. We look forward to engaging constructively with you and your team in the coming weeks, months and years....and let's hope indeed, the next meeting will be in person. Good luck again with all that is happening at present. I wish you and the team good health.

Best regards,

[REDACTED]
