Munich Security Conference 2022

Your Excellency,

I am following up on my invitation for you to participate in the 58th Munich Security Conference (MSC). The conference will be held at the Hotel Bayerischer Hof in Munich from February 18 to 20, 2022.

Looking back at almost two years of predominantly virtual exchange, we are pleased to once again bring together high-ranking decision-makers and prominent opinion leaders from all over the world in Munich to discuss today's most pressing security concerns. Considering the volatile global security environment, characterized by multiple conflict escalations, dynamic power relations, as well as pressing climate and health challenges, it is more important than ever to maintain open channels of communication and pursue constructive strategic debates. Naturally, we have adapted all our formats to current hygiene regulations.

I would like to invite you to provide opening remarks at the MSC Roundtable discussion on the Geneconomics of Climate Change, taking place on Friday, February 18, from 5.30 p.m. to 7.00 p.m. I have also asked [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] among others, to provide input statements and Meghan O'Sullivan, Director of the Geopolitics of Energy Project at Harvard Kennedy School, to moderate the debate. The discussion will take place in a hybrid roundtable format under Chatham House Rule as part of the main program.

MSC Roundtables bring together an intimate group of up to 35 high-level participants for an interactive debate on a specific security policy challenge. Roundtables are held under Chatham House rule or off-the-record and take place throughout the year, frequently alongside other MSC events, such as the Munich Leaders Meetings and the Munich Security Conference.

For all further details regarding your role, the MSC Speaker Team will be available to your staff members. They can be reached at speaker@securityconference.org.

I would be delighted to welcome you to the MSC 2022.

Sincerely,

C
