Dear Commissioner Johansson,

It was a pleasure to meet with you (and for the first time in person!) at Google's Mountain View offices last week. I appreciated the chance to discuss your upcoming EU legislation to strengthen the fight against child sexual abuse and exploitation.

This is a key priority for Google and I was pleased that we could share with you some details about our efforts to combat this crime, our continued work to innovate in this space, and how we are working to help others to do their part. Fighting child sexual abuse and exploitation involves a collective effort and a framework that can support efforts to innovate, collaborate, and problem-solve.

I know you are planning to visit our Google Safety Engineering Center (GSEC) for Content Responsibility in Dublin on the 8th of February. We look forward to hosting you and the team is eager to provide more information about our approach to combating child sexual abuse and exploitation, and how the upcoming legislation can support our joint commitment to ensure children stay safe.

Sincerely,

Kent Walker
President, Global Affairs
