Dear [REDACTED],
Dear Piotr and [REDACTED]

With Stefano's apologies, would it be OK for you to postpone slightly today's meeting to 16:30 or 16:45? Unfortunately we are having some unforeseen scheduling difficulties and it would be very helpful if possible to start this meeting slightly later. We very much hope this doesn't cause too much inconvenience. Could you let me know if it would be doable for you?

Apologies again, and thank you very much in advance for your understanding. Best regards,

[REDACTED]

Dear [REDACTED],

Thank you very much, Stefano is pleased to confirm at 16.15h on Tuesday and is looking forward to seeing Piotr and [REDACTED] in person. For access to the Berlaymont, if possible to provide the details in the attached file, we will be able to make sure their visitor badges are ready on arrival, which will speed up entry into the building. If you could send them any time before Monday evening, I will prepare this and send them both the visitor passes. I will come to the Berlaymont reception on Tuesday to meet them.

Thank you very much, and wishing you a very nice evening too 😊

Dear [REDACTED],

Thank you very much for your email, and our apologies for the slow response. Stefano will be travelling with the Commissioner on Monday next week, arriving back in Brussels overnight on Tuesday, so he could unfortunately only be available during the afternoon of Tuesday 7 March. Would 16:15 or later be possible for Piotr?

Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for your message – pity that we cannot meet today!
May I propose a meeting between us next week when it will be easier for me to join in person:
Monday 6/03 between 1030- 1800
Tuesday 7/03 between 1130 -1800

Maybe a meeting over lunch could be an option for Stefano.

I put [REDACTED] in CC: to look at the details of the agendas with you

Best

Dear Piotr and [REDACTED],

Stefano is really sorry about this, but unfortunately today's workload and meetings have become unexpectedly heavy, and he won't be able to make it to meet you at 16.45 as planned. Please accept his sincere apologies for this, and for the late notice. If possible for you, he suggests rescheduling on Friday afternoon this week, somewhere between 13.30 and 15.30. Could this work?

Apologies again for the inconvenience, and we hope it will be possible to fix a new time without too much difficulty. Thank you very much for your understanding.

Best regards,
