On Monday, 13 April 2015, I attended in Beijing a meeting of the Construction Working Group of the European Union Chamber of Commerce in China. Norton Rose Fulbright Beijing, delivered a presentation on China's evolving legal framework for Public-Private Partnerships and highlighted the possibilities it creates for international investors, which are very limited. In the subsequent Q&A session, I expressed my scepticism of seeing a mature PPP sector developing in China. I gave a presentation on the state of play of the EU-China Urbanisation Partnership and answered to questions. The upcoming 2015-2015 Construction Position Paper was also discussed; the Chamber had decided to introduce a reference to the EU-China Comprehensive Agreement on Investments in each of the Position Paper's sections. Questioned on the subject, I explained why this wording should be preferred to "bilateral investments treaty." I also underlined the importance for them to reflect in the paper the post-establishment barriers specific to the construction sector.

Meeting Report
Minsheng Banking Corp. – 21 April 2015

Participants: Minsheng Banking Corp.
Ambassador Hans Dietmar Schweigut, Head of Delegation

Date: 21 April 2015

HoD introduced with a quick overview of the Economic situation in the EU (resuming growth, banking union, unified regulation of capital markets and financial sector), and a general assessment of EU-China relations. Trade in goods continues to grow well; more could be done on investment and services. We hope to make roadway in the BIT negotiations before the Summit to be held in Brussels in June.

European Companies in China are concerned that the business climate in China is deteriorating. There was particular concern regarding recent measures (later rescinded) announced by the CBRC and MIIT on control measures for ICT used in the banking sector.
HoD informed [REDACTED] of possible participation opportunities in Business Summit and of upcoming outreach activities to explain the EU's new Fund for Strategic Investment, which would present investment opportunities for third parties.

[Redacted] participated to the meeting in order to inform personally and directly the EU industry in Shanghai about the ongoing negotiations for EU-China Comprehensive Agreement on Investment (CAI).

First addressed the reason driving the start of these negotiations on Investment with China. EU is China’s second largest partner in trade. Last year (2014) EU trade growth in China raised by nearly 10%. However, the bilateral investment growth is comparably very limited so there is a lot of untapped potential which EU wants to stimulate by removing various restrictions to investment.

Passed 3 Key messages:

1) The EU-China investment negotiations CAI will have the potential to change the whole investment environment, and change fundamentally the prospects of doing business with China.

2) The EU Delegation wants to do as much outreach as possible. The EU is more than ready to explain as much as needed to the companies about these ongoing negotiations. The EU is negotiating this for EU business so the EU wants to make sure that it covers what industry needs.

3) The EU wishes to ensure the agreement is adapted to the Chinese domestic circumstances as much as possible. In order to do this properly, the input of industry is vital so we appreciate all feedback from EU industries.

Then a Q & A session started where the following questions were raised:

Q1: What is the investment agreement about? In other words, what are the building blocks? Which investments are covered?
Q2: What is in it for EU industry? In other words, how will EU approach the concrete market access problems and barriers that EU industry is facing in the Chinese market? How will EU tackle issues such as investment caps, technology transfer, discrimination towards foreigners, monopolies (of SOEs), limitations on licensing etc.

Q3: How will EU approach 'investment protection' to tackle issues as observance of written commitments, fair treatment, compensation for losses, expropriation?

Q4: In China many things are decided between closed doors. So, how will EU enhance transparency and good administrative governance?

Q5: How will EU make sure investors can enforce the commitments taken by China in the agreement?

Q 6: Will the negative list be different from that of the US?

Q 7: Do we have any tools in this agreement to enforce the commitment? If China does not commit to the agreement, will there be any punishments?

EUCC: Several chairs of EUCC’s working group, staff of EUCC and colleagues from the different Consulates of EU member states in Guangzhou

Date: 20 May 2015

The Ambassador of the European Union to China led a visit of EU Ambassadors to Guangzhou from 19 to 21 May. The visit was part of the events to celebrate the 40th anniversary of diplomatic relations between the EU and China. The Ambassadors or Chargés d’affaires of 14 Member States joined the visit. In addition, Consuls General of EU Member States in Guangzhou were invited to join the programme. Guangdong has been the manufacturing engine of China and the largest province in terms of export value. It is still the richest province in China. South China’s 2014 GDP reached CNY 6.779 billion (EUR 954 – 45% of Italy, 33% of France, 25% of Germany). Its population is estimated to 105.9 million people and its size is of 179,800 km2 (60% of Italy, 50% of Germany, 28% of France). There are currently 2,913 active European enterprises in Guangdong.

In this context, a representative of the Trade section of EU DEL joined the EU Ambassador. The opportunity of this mission was used to have a special encounter with EUCC and there was a special request from Industry to get more information on the ongoing negotiations for EU-China Comprehensive Agreement on Investment (CAI).

In this meeting, [Name] provided first some background info on the reasons to start these negotiations China. EU is China’s second largest partner in trade.
