Hi [REDACTED]

I will keep your request in mind, however our aim is to have a political intervention during the opening possibly together with the First VP (tbc).

Subject: FW: Invitation to the Conference - Fitness Check of EU Nature Legislation

Dear [REDACTED]

Thanks once again for the warm welcome to our DG last week.

We much appreciate the invitation to continue the dialogue on a number of key policy areas. I have reported back to the team and we will be in contact soon to give follow up to this.

For the conference on the REFIT on 20 November, we are very pleased that IUCN is invited to speak and we are now discussing internally who could best present our perspectives.

As I understood IUCN has been given a speaking slot in the session on the EU added-value in the afternoon, and I am not sure if you are the right person to ask, but we would be pleased to know if there would be a chance for IUCN to speak instead during the opening part of the conference along with the Commissioner. This would be a good opportunity for Jane Smart, Director of IUCN's Global Conservation Programme to join us in Brussels and make her contribution to the conference.

Thanks in advance for your advice!

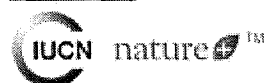

All the best,

Subject: Invitation to the Conference - Fitness Check of EU Nature Legislation (Birds and Habitats Directives)

Dear Madam, Sir,

Earlier this year your organisation was sent a questionnaire to help the European Commission gather evidence for the fitness check of the EU Nature Directives. The evaluation team will present their preliminary key findings from the analysis of evidence at a conference in Brussels on 20 November 2015, at the Square – Brussels Meeting Centre (main entrance glass cube Mont des Arts, accessible via Rue Ravenstein or Boulevard de l'Empereur, 1000 Brussels, Belgium).

Please find attached the Invitation Letter to the Conference containing further information concerning the Conference and the registration process, as well as an overview and a draft agenda.

Please register within the period of 14 September - 9 October 2015 by filling out the on-line Registration Form:

Regards,

The Conference Team.
