Hi [REDACTED]

No - the address is Promenade 78 @ The Salesforce Lodge (I'm attaching pictures of the front and the side of the Lodge for ease).

Thanks!

Dear [REDACTED]

One further question please: the address of the venue is Lokal, Promenade 100, Davos?

Thanks for clarifying

Dear Commissioner Moedas,

Happy new year.

I would like to kindly remind you of the request on behalf of [REDACTED] [REDACTED], Salesforce [REDACTED] for a bilateral meeting at Davos in the context of the World Economic Forum meeting.

In addition, [REDACTED] is hosting a roundtable discussion with representatives from industry, academia, and the political world, on Artificial Intelligence and he would be delighted to have you join [REDACTED] and also offer the opening remarks or have a firestarter role, if you so wish. You can find the details for this event below.

Could you please let me know if you would be available to join [REDACTED] for this event?

Kind regards,

[REDACTED]

AI Readiness Lunch

Hosted by [REDACTED] Salesforce, and [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] Transform.AI.
Wednesday 23 January
12:30 - 13:30
Lokal, Promenade 100, Davos

The narratives that are shaped around new technologies greatly influence the beliefs and views, positive or negative, that people hold about their perceived impact on individuals, society and businesses. It is a fairly common belief, for example, that Japanese accept robots far more easily than Westerners or that Europeans are more resistant to technology, viewing it as a threat to the “social” nature of Europe’s economy.

How do the existing narratives about AI differ across cultures, economies and geographic locations? What is the disconnect between the prevalent narratives and the actual state of the science? What processes and frameworks do business and government need to implement to build trust and ensure employee and citizen readiness as we enter this new AI era?

This will be an off the record discussion with guests seated around one table.
