

On 6 June I met with representatives from CityUK. They set out the state of play of their preparations for a no deal Brexit and their concerns on a number of files including the finalisation of Basel III and sustainable finance. I recalled the need for continued Brexit contingency preparations, and set out what in the Vice President's view could be key issues which the new Commission would have to look at.