Dear all

Indeed, there were no minutes following this call.

Just saw on the transparency register that the topic was “to discuss tracing apps”. This is not entirely accurate (as amazon is not involved in this), it was about Amazon’s measures to ensure safety of their employees at times of Covid.

The phone call was a reaction to some press coverage about Amazon’s alleged negligence in protecting their employees from Covid.

They explained the measures taken. The follow up to the call was the below letter that was sent to the EVP a few weeks later (see attached mail).

I would consider that letter part of the response to the request for messages and relevant documents.

Best
