Thank you for your request dated 16 September 2013, which was registered in the EEAS access to documents registry under reference 2014/114, for access to documents under Regulation 1049/2001 regarding public access to European Parliament, Council and Commission documents ("the Regulation").

Pursuant to Article 4(6) of the Regulation, access can be granted to these documents with the exception of some parts which contain internal considerations and opinions drawn up for internal use only, with a view to the discussions in the working party. Some other parts relate to internal opinions regarding relations with third parties. These assessment are merely of an internal nature. Disclosure of these parts would seriously undermine the decision-making process. It would also complicate the EU's political relationship with those third parties and adversely affect the EU's international relations.

Access to these parts of the documents must therefore be refused on the basis of Article 4(1)(a), third indent of the Regulation (protection of the public interest as regards international relations) and in the absence of any evidence of an overriding public interest in release also pursuant to the first and second subparagraph of Article 4(3) of the Regulation (protection of the decision-making process of the Council).
