

FRANS TIMMERMANS
Executive Vice-President

Brussels,

I would like to thank you for your congratulations and letter of support. Getting business leaders like yourself on board and seeing the efforts by companies to make the transition to a climate neutral and more circular economy concrete gives me optimism for the challenging and exciting agenda ahead of us.

Improving energy efficiency, shifting towards renewable energy and changing business models and supply chains to make them more green and circular are all essential to achieving the objectives of the European Green Deal. The steps taken by companies like IKEA provide important signals.

Our industry must transform profoundly to address the sustainability challenges we face. The European Green Deal will underpin the transition needed in all sectors and synthesize our ambition across all EU actions and policies. I see considerable benefits in doing so in an integrated manner.

I look forward to your further contributions in what will be a dynamic policy process.

Yours sincerely,

Frans Timmermans
