Dear [REDACTED],

All is well here with my colleagues and myself, thank you for asking. I hope you can say the same.

As for your request, regretfully Mr Rossides's agenda is far too charged (and changing by the minute) but Ms Prainsak, in copy of this email, will be happy to virtually meet you.

[REDACTED], also in copy of this email, will get back to you for the practical arrangements.

Kind regards

[REDACTED]

Dear [REDACTED]

I hope that you, your family and the entire team are still doing well and that you are surviving these extremely busy times.

On behalf of the members of the American Chamber of Commerce to the EU, I would like to thank you for the tremendous efforts the European Commission and all the European institutions have been making to mitigate this health and economic crisis.

I am re-contacting you on behalf of the leadership of the American Chamber of Commerce to the EU (AmCham EU) who would like to request an online meeting with Mr Rossides or someone else from the Cabinet in the coming weeks with the aim of presenting our new Economic Recovery paper – Overcoming COVID-19: Laying the foundation for a more resilient EU – that outlines short-term measures to address the ongoing crisis. The paper aims to support policymakers throughout the entire recovery phase and to ensure that Europe does not stall on its road to recovery. It focuses on healthcare, safety of workers, the integrity of the Single Market, state-aid measures and the digital environment.

We are well aware of the busy period and we are willing to accommodate his/their agenda.

Should you need further information, do not hesitate to contact us. We will gladly answer all the questions you might have.

Looking forward to hearing from you, I wish you a nice day.

Best Regards,

American Chamber of Commerce to the EU
