Dear [Name],

Thank you for your note and for Mr. Stengg's availability. Best wishes for 2021 to you and your colleagues as well!

The first time slot suggested works well - Monday, January 18, 12:00-12:30pm. Platform-wise, we are ok with whatever is most convenient for you and your colleagues; if all work equally, Zoom would be ideal for us. I can send and invite unless you or your colleagues prefer to.

We are fine with the meeting being published on the Commission's website. We do not plan to communicate the content proactively either (especially since it is an introductory/work session) but our SoP is a very public endeavor already.

Dear ,

Thank you for the kind reply and for the time that Vice-President Vestager and your colleagues took to consider our proposal.

We would be delighted to meet Mr. Werner Stengg at his earliest convenience and would appreciate your support in managing the practical arrangements.

If you could let us know several calendar options that suit his agenda, we would be happy to block one for such a meeting.

With best regards,

Dear [Name],

Executive Vice-President Margrethe Vestager asked me to thank you for all the information provided in the Statement of Principles of EU technology platforms sent to her attention and for your request and availability for a meeting to discuss upon this document.

Due to a very busy period with numerous institutional commitments, EVP Vestager is unable to respond positively to this meeting demand. Nevertheless, she suggested that you could meet our Cabinet expert Mr Werner Stengg to further discuss your concerns on the mentioned topics.

I stay at your disposal for the practical arrangements should you wish to take this option.

With kind regards,
Dear Sir, Dear Madam,

We hereby confirm the reception of your email addressed to Margrethe Vestager.

Best regards,

Cabinet Vestager Team

Subject: Statement of Principles of EU technology platforms

Dear Ms Vestager,

I am writing to you on behalf of a group of European digital champions that are born and based in the EU (Bolt, Delivery Hero, Glovo and Wolt) in order to share with you our Statement of Principles of EU technology platforms, which you will find attached to this email.

We believe that the conversation around the regulation of digital platforms and platform work in the European Union has finally matured and would like to contribute to it the insights we gained operating at home and globally.

We agree with Vice-President Vestager that, on matters digital, "in Europe, we have purpose". In that sense, this document is a first draft response in the search for it in the platform economy, and we hope it will inform and accelerate this conversation.

We would welcome the opportunity to hear your views on our Statement of Principles and look forward to further discussing it with you and/or your colleagues. To that end, each company's points of contact are copied to this email.

In the interim, we will start collecting feedback from multiple stakeholders; the document also remains open for signature by other market players.

Thank you in advance for your time and consideration,

Sincerely,
