Access to documents request or a request for information?

Access to documents requests are dealt with under Regulation 1049/2001.

If the requested information is not contained in any existing documents, or if replying would involve compiling information from a number of different documents, the application should be considered a request for information.
Wide personal scope: beneficiaries

- Any natural or legal person (no limitation to EU!)
  Art. 2(1) and 2(2) of Regulation 1049/2001 and Art. 1 of Implementing Decision
- No obligation to give reasons for the request
  Art. 6(1) of Regulation 1049/2001
- No privileged access
  Ex: MEPs and their staff to be treated like all other members of the public
- Member States national (or subnational) authorities are not among the beneficiaries of Regulation 1049/2001. Such requests should be dealt with according to the principle of sincere cooperation laid down in Article 4(3) TEU.
Wide material scope

- All documents drawn up or received in all areas of activity [Art. 2(3) R]

- Very wide definition of a “document”: any content whatever its medium (even database or audio content!) [Art. 3(a) R]

- Access is granted to existing documents in an existing version and format (no obligation to create or translate documents [Art. 10(3) R]!)

- Also documents in the archives, if not older than 30 years
3. Principles and exceptions from disclosure

- Principle of transparency: documents are accessible unless an exception applies (the exceptions are listed in Art. 4 of Regulation 1049/2001)
- Exceptions to be applied narrowly
- Concrete and individual examination of documents falling under the scope of the request (no more, no fewer documents than requested)
- No exempt categories (unless a presumption of non-disclosure by verdict of the European Courts applies), not even classified or sensitive documents (Art. 9 of Regulation 1049/2001)
- Exceptions apply as long as protection is justified, up to 30 years
4. Exceptions

Absolute exceptions

In case of harm, access is denied

Relative exceptions

Double test:

Harm?

Overriding public interest in disclosure?
Absolute exceptions

Protection of the public interest [Art. 4(1) a R]
- Public security
- Defence and military matters
- International relations

Protection of personal data [Art. 4(1) b R]
- Privacy and integrity of the individual in particular in accordance with legislation regarding the protection of personal data [Regulation 45/2001]
Protection of personal data

- Access to documents and personal data protection are equivalent rights

- Requests for access to personal data to be examined under both Regulations 1049/2001 and 1725/2018

- Applicant must establish the need for disclosure

In practice: Personal data to be redacted in documents to be disclosed (except for personalities with a function known to the public, like ministers, CEOs)

Commission staff:
Access can be granted to the names and functions of Commissioners, their Cabinet members and staff in Senior management positions. For other staff members only if a clear need is established and there are no reasons to assume that the legitimate rights of the colleagues concerned might be prejudiced (Guidance note, SG-Newsletter n° 19 of 27 March 2015)

- More details: SG Newsletters Nr 41 and 42 (December 2018)
Relative exceptions (1)

Protection of commercial interests, Art. 4(2), first indent, R

Court Proceedings and legal advice Art. 4(2), second indent, R
Documents drafted for the proceedings/legislative + non-legislative opinions

Inspections, Investigations, Audits, Art. 4(2), third indent, R
(Infringement-, State aid-, audit- and competition procedures)

Unless there is an overriding public interest in disclosure!
