Dear [REDACTED],

I just uploaded your and [REDACTED] name and email addresses in the accreditation system. You should have received an email with the link to complete your registration.

Please, do not hesitate to contact us in case of need.

Dear [REDACTED],

Thank you for your prompt reply. I confirm that the slot has been blocked in Alejandro's and Alina's agenda. It is absolutely fine for us to have a physical meeting. In this case we would need email address and name and surname for all the participants. Participants will have to upload their data on the system by clicking on the link generated by the accreditation system.

Alternatively, you can send me back the table attached with all the data requested and we will do the necessary.

Best regards

Dear [REDACTED],

Thank you for your kind reply. The time slot on the 8th of September at 14h works for us. Our preferred choice would be a physical meeting, but of course, we remain flexible.

Best regards,

Dear [REDACTED],

I trust this email finds you well. I am writing you to offer a meeting with Cabinet Vestager Members Alejandro Cainzos and Alina Ujupan.

Apologies for the delay in getting back to you but, given the holiday period, we thought it would be safer to plan the meeting at the beginning of September when we will all be back to work.

Could one of the following timeslots work for you (kindly note that we offer half an hour timeslots)?

- Tuesday 6th September at 15.00 or 15.30
- Thursday 8th September at 14.00 or 14.30

Please be aware that we intend to publish the meeting on the transparency register of the European Commission. Please make sure your organisation is duly registered.

The Cabinet does not intend to communicate actively on the content of this meeting. However, in line with Regulation (EC) No 1049/2001, minutes can be made accessible to the public upon request (without any disclosure of protected interests).

Lats but not least a logistical question: do you prefer a physical meeting or via an online platform? In the latter case we can send you a Webex or MS Teams link.

Best regards
