Subject: Invitation to the RawMaterials Summit 2023

Dear [REDACTED]

I am happy to inform you that the Raw Materials Summit 2023 will take place over two full days at 'The Egg' conference venue in Brussels from 15-17 May 2023 with an opening night welcome event to be held on 15 May.

As you know, the Summit is the flagship conference organised and hosted by EIT RawMaterials and, as we did in the previous year, we aim to foresee an official high level opening session with the participation of Commissioner Thierry Breton, Vice President Maros Šefčovic, and Commissioner Mariya Gabriel, whom we have already invited to attend.

The annual event features leading players in the international raw materials industry, start-ups, innovators, educators, researchers, and NGOs. Through key discussions on major innovations, policy initiatives, challenges and opportunities facing the raw materials sector, progress is made on the mission to achieve the green and digital transition by 2050.

Your participation will be an honor for EIT RawMaterials and very relevant for the ERMA community. We hope your agenda would allow you and your team to participate.

More detailed information on the programme will be shared with you in due course.

We very much look forward to seeing you there!

Yours sincerely,

[REDACTED]
