Dear [REDACTED]

15h to 15h10 on June 28th sounds fine. Thank you for agreeing to this.

I am copying [REDACTED] to this mail.

She will send you the zoom link and conduct the test.

Best regards,

Hello [REDACTED]
Alejandro's agenda is rather full on 28/6. Still, I could propose a quick test from 15h to 15h10.
Will you send us the Zoom link?
Thanks

Hello [REDACTED]
Thank you for your mail.
Could we possibly schedule a connection test at some time between 2:30pm to and 4:30pm on Tuesday the 28?
This is what would work for our tech team over here.
Let me know at your convenience
Thanks

Dear Alejandro,

I hope you are doing well.

This is just a quick update on our seminar of June 30th.

The debate will now be conducted over a single session, from 9:30 to 11:30am.
This should allow for a more focused discussion.

Also, a number of recent Ifri events using Webex have met connection issues.
We may have to switch to Zoom, which should be secure enough since they now have a feature called "zoom-room" for private sessions, that is encrypted from start to finish. In any case, we will do a short test the day before. I hope this will be OK for you?

There will be a good group of participants in the room, with amongst others, [redacted] from the French ministry of finance, [redacted] from CEPS, [redacted] from Clingendael, [redacted] from Sciences-po, [redacted] etc...

A final mail with all information will be sent to all participants next week. Please let me know if you have any questions!

I thank you very much in advance for your participation.

Dear Alejandro,
Thank you very much for your positive reply. This is excellent news!
We would be delighted if you could make an introductory presentation on the outcomes of the second TTC meeting.
This would be at the beginning of the first panel, at 9:30.
I will give you a list of the other participants as soon as possible.
Best regards,

Dear [REDACTED],
Many thanks for participating in Saclay and for your kind invitation.
Unfortunately it will not be possible for me to travel on that date due to other obligations in Brussels, but would be happy to participate via Webex.
Would you wish me to make an introductory presentation in one of the panels or rather to react?
All the best,
Alejandro

Dear Mr. Cainzos,

Along with my Ifri colleague [redacted] I took part in the Stakeholder Session of the TTC meeting in Saclay last week.

As part of Ifri's on-going effort to analyze the development of European technology policies, we are setting up a seminar to assess the results of this last TTC. The goal is to discuss tech issues in a European-only setting, in order to build a stronger consensus amongst EU-members before the next TTC meeting at the end of the year. We are inviting high-level officials from European countries and the Commission, think-tankers and the private sector. There will be no press.

The seminar will be held at Ifri in Paris on June 30th, from 9:30am to 1pm (followed by lunch). Ifri will cover travel and one hotel night. If it is easier for you, online participation via Webex is also possible.

The first panel will look at the outcomes of the TTC May meeting : what are the positive creations (such as alert mechanisms in case of semi-conductors shortages; as well as for problematic online content), and the issues that may need more discussion. The second panel will focus on the ways we can ensure better digital democracy : what are the next steps to ensure an ethical AI? To better fund secure digital infrastructures at home and in third countries? How can we mitigate the environmental cost of digital developments?

We expect the group of 15-20 around the table to take part in a moderated discussion. Each panel will be introduced by 2 or 3 short presentations.

I would be delighted if you could join us and am at your disposal for more information.

Thank you very much for your time.
