Dear Sir, Madam,

I am writing to follow-up on [REDACTED]'s email, Michelin [REDACTED], inviting Executive Vice-President Timmermans to Movin'On, the world summit of sustainable mobility.

As exemplified by this initiative, Michelin is driven by a strategic vision to offer a more sustainable mobility to our customers. The Group is also firmly engaged on the path to circularity with a comprehensive strategy to reduce, reuse, recycle and use renewable resources. Michelin has been a strong and active supporter of the 1st Circular Economy Action Plan. Looking ahead, we are convinced that the success of the European Green Deal will hinge on the establishment of a true collaboration between public and private stakeholders, in the most inclusive way possible.

[REDACTED] would therefore very much welcome the opportunity to meet Executive Vice-President Timmermans on Wednesday 26th February to discuss how the industry can further contribute to the ambitions laid out in the EU Green Deal communication.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Yours sincerely,

[REDACTED]

Subject: MOVIN'ON SUMMIT invitation

Dear Executive Vice-President Timmermans,

I am honored to invite you to the next Movin'On Summit, the world summit for sustainable mobility, which will be held from 3 to 5 June 2020 in Montreal.

Behind this summit, lies the conviction that private and public sectors need to join forces to tackle the challenges of tomorrow's mobility. In 2019, 5,000 world leaders in mobility sector shared knowledge but above all experience to move from ambition to concrete actions.

When it comes to sustainable development, the European Union is a frontrunner which not only set ambitious goals but also and takes concrete steps. I would be delighted if you were to join us to share the European Commission's vision, further explain which concrete actions will be undertaken to turn ambition into reality and which role the mobility sector can play in this transition.

Yours sincerely,
