Dear Commissioner,

We are writing to you to express our deepest concern regarding the possibility of the abandonment of agricultural activities by the European farmers due to a combination of the current geopolitical context and the consequences of the extreme weather conditions in EU. In fact, if derogations to the CAP conditionality, eco-schemes and agri-environment-climate commitments in 2024 are not be adopted as soon as possible, this will be the most likely outcome.

Please find enclosed our position paper where we explain why as farmers, have serious concerns when it comes to the impact that the severe weather conditions have had on the agricultural practices and the current and future implementation of some CAP requirements as a consequence of the prolonged impact of extreme weather conditions.

Therefore, we are kindly asking you to grant derogations to the CAP conditionality rules, eco-schemes and agri-environment-climate commitments for the application year 2024.

We would like to thank you for considering our requests and remain available for further information, if necessary.
