Dear Commissioner Valean,

The undersigned are writing to request a meeting via videoconference with you to discuss the Commission’s plans to promote sustainable aviation fuels (SAF) in the upcoming March 2021 ReFuelEU legislative proposal.
The Commission intends to propose a compulsory blending mandate that relies heavily on waste lipid feedstocks listed Annex IX of the Renewable Energy Directive (REDII), especially those in part B, used cooking oil and animal fats.

There are several ways to achieve the Commission’s and our goals of maximizing the total reduction of GHGs in the most efficient manner possible. As an example, we can look at how Germany and the UK have already created solutions to increase renewable feedstock going into aviation. These countries are supporting novel pathways and feedstocks and encourage the development of medium to long term technologies like e-fuels or cellulosic-to-aviation to successfully decarbonize aviation.

We will make ourselves available for a videocall whenever it suits you best.
