Subject: BPA event for stakeholders in Brussels
Importance: High

Dear ,

Please be informed that EFSA is organising a stakeholder meeting on BPA in Brussels on April 23, 2014. The registration is free of charge and open (at this link: <http://registerofquestions.efsa.europa.eu/roqFrontend/meetingsub/meetingid/14>) until 23rd March 2014.

The goal of this meeting is for EFSA to discuss the comments received during the 2 public consultation phases with the contributing parties in order to ensure the full understanding of the comments before adopting the final opinion.

There will be very few slots for short ppt presentations by selected contributing parties in order to clarify the comments submitted, trying to cover all the views expressed. Because the public consultation is still open, such list of speakers is not ready at the moment. Would in principle FDA be interested in presenting its view?

The oral presentation session will be followed by a general discussion open to anyone in the public, where EFSA experts and all the audience can actively participate and can in principle speak up, asking/answering questions, providing comments, etc.. The overall number of participants is 100 including EFSA staff, experts and outside parties. We aim at a balanced representation of all contributing parties.

Best regards

Dear

I have already proceeded to register you for the meeting, so don't worry.

Concerning the presentation we have not decided yet on the list of speakers for each session, but certainly we will take your preference into consideration. I will come back to you in a week time when we have better defined the agenda. Just for your reference please consider that we plan to have 10 min talks for each speaker.

Dear

It was very nice hearing your voice during our meeting last week.

I'm writing to let you know that, as we indicated, I will plan to attend the stakeholder meeting on April 23. Unfortunately, I was not able to access the registration portal during this past weekend from the U.S. and today from Brussels I see that the registration is now closed. Is it still possible to submit my information or perhaps was it already submitted? In addition to the details below, my telephone numbers are as follows,

Office:  Mobile:

We would also be interested to provide a brief slide presentation highlighting our comments. As I understand, there will be two concurrent sessions on the exposure assessment and the human health assessment, is that correct? If so, I imagine the comments might only address one or the other? In case it's only possible to address one, FDA colleagues would have a preference for the human health assessment.

Can you please advise at your earliest convenience?

Thanks,

To whom it may concern:

We really appreciated to receive comments from COT on the EFSA draft assessment of the health risks of BPA during our recent public consultation. We therefore would like to invite an expert from your organization as a speaker at the BPA stakeholder event (Brussels, 23 April 2014) to present such comments on behalf of COT.

A draft agenda of this event is attached for your convenience.

Three/4 speakers representing different parties and different views will be given 10 min to present (by ppt) their comments on either the exposure or health risks part of the EFSA draft opinion on BPA.

Both the exposure and toxicology sessions of the event will then be followed by a general discussion involving the whole audience.

Travel and accommodation costs will be covered by EFSA.

Please reply to this e-mail by Monday 7 April (COB) to let us know whether you are in principle interested/ available to attend and, if so, the name and contact details of your proposed speaker. He/she will then receive an official invitation letter which will include a comprehensive reimbursement policy.

Dear

The European Food Safety Authority (EFSA) has the pleasure to invite you to participate in the Meeting on the Outcome of the EFSA Public Consultations on Bisphenol A (BPA). The event will be held in Brussels, Belgium, on 23 April 2014 starting at 09h00 and ending at 15h30.

The meeting will give EFSA's scientific experts and staff the opportunity to engage with all contributing stakeholders and other relevant parties on their feedback to the Authority's draft assessments of BPA human exposure and BPA human health risks. EFSA aims to ensure a full understanding of these comments prior to the final adoption of the scientific opinion by the EFSA's Panel on Food Contact Materials, Enzymes, Flavourings and Processing Aids (CEF) later this year.

Structure of the conference

During the approximately six-hour meeting, EFSA will present the comments received and invited stakeholders and interested parties will contribute by giving their feedback.

The complete event announcement can be found on EFSA's website.

Venue

The meeting venue will be Sheraton Hotel, Place Rogier-3, Brussels.

Language

English will be the official language of the conference. No translation will be provided.

Of course we have no preclusion of inviting another person to speak on CHEM's behalf, if you prefer so. Please communicate to us your preference ASAP and eventually the name and contact details of the expert that you consider the most suitable for this task.
Concerning your question, the names of the speakers were selected among the authors of the comments that were submitted to us and among the registered participants to the event, so honestly we had not thought of inviting . Just let us know, if you think that we should invite him on CHEM's behalf.

Dear _____ ar

Thanks for your invitation. Can you give me some more information on the presentation? In order to prepare the presentation I would be interested if it is possible to present slides during the talk?
