Dear Anne-Line,

Of course!

1) Some references I remember:

The paper in annex by Nicola Singleton is also interesting, I think.

2) Oslo!

Thanks for your kindness. I only had the official confirmation that I will participate in this meeting on Thursday and I was in [REDACTED] with [REDACTED] therefore, I have not planned anything yet.

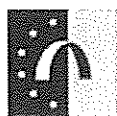

However, I will certainly have to fly maximum on Sunday. I hope I will not arrive too late to see you. But, please do not change your plans for me. In think my son will have exams on that period (i still have to confirm, though). So it is very unlikely that I will be away for the whole weekend. Although I would love to finally visit your country...

As soon as I know time schedules to Oslo, I tell you. I will try to arrive early on Sunday, but please do not change your planes because of me...

Looking forward to working together and it was really a nice surprise that you are behind the Pompidour Group project!!!

Hi Claudia,
In your questions:
1. You mentioned a paper by 7 Chalkins that could be relevant for our work in the expert group. Could you please send us the references to that? I am so glad you're on board in that group this year expertise, more fun!
2. The 9th meeting starts on Monday 8 June at noon, if I remember correctly. Will you have time & opportunity to come some time in advance? I may have to go away for the weekend leading up to the meeting (17th and 18th June) but if you plan to come, I might be able to change that- at least see you on the Sunday.
Anyway, we'll meet in short soon so we can plan ahead!
Anne Line

Dear Danilo,

I hope you are doing all well.

I am writing to you in your capacity as Permanent Correspondent of the EMCDDA to the Pompidou Group to formally request the participation of Claudia Storti in the Pompidou Group's expert group on Possible adverse effects and associated cost of drug control policies (the terms of reference are attached). We foresee 3 meetings of 2 days each for 2015 and possibly two in 2016.
The first meeting will take place on 8-9 June 2015 in Oslo.

As you know we have very much valued Claudia's contributions on the economic aspects of drug policies in previous activities, and we would be most obliged if the EMCDDA would be in the position to make her participation in this expert group possible.

As a matter of course the Pompidou Group will cover her travel and subsistence expenses (on the basis of the rules of the Council of Europe) to participate in the meetings.

I am looking forward to a hopefully positive reply and remain with my very best regards,

Yours

Thomas

Dear Claudia,

We are pleased to invite you to the 1st meeting of the Expert group on Possible adverse effects and associated cost of drug control policies that will take place in Oslo from 8 to 10 June. We've scheduled the meeting this way permitting you to travel on 8th morning and back on 10th afternoon. If you have any flight preferences, please let me know as soon as possible, otherwise we will check on the most convenient time flight and price tickets.

The meeting will be held in Hotel Scandic Edderkoppen.
<http://www.scandichotels.com/Hotels/Norway/Oslo/Scandic-Edderkoppen/>

We have pre-booked a room for you for 2 nights in the same hotel at the negotiated rate of NOK 1 390 per night (about 165 euros). The hotel reservation should be paid by you directly to the hotel at the reception upon departure. After the meeting, your per diems will be paid to you by bank transfer to your bank account. We will of course take into account the high price of the accommodation and the per diem rate will be increased accordingly.

Please see below the link of the express train that you can take from the airport to the city center. It is the fastest way to get there.

<http://www.flytoget.no/eng/Stations/Flytoget-Airport-Express-train-station-at-Oslo-Airport>

The express train will take you to Nasjonal Teateret Station in central Oslo, a journey of 22 minutes. From there it's a 600-metre walk to the Scandic Edderkoppen hotel.

Dear Anne-Line

Dear All

I hereby send you a revised copy of the excellent work already provided by Sanja, Thomas, Claudia and Anne-Line based on our own.

There was not much to add, of the few suggestions I made some are not anymore in this version, because reading again and again they were not necessary!

The references are edited, but I think some more work may be necessary, particular from each original contributor.

My view is that when version 28042016 was last edited (before this time), there remained references that no longer make sense.

Please check.

I hope to see you all up north in the island of ice.

Have a nice trip there.

Best regards,

Assunto: Chapter 2

Dear all,

I hope this email finds you well!

Please find enclosed a revised draft of Chapter 2. As you will see, with the help of Thomas and Claudia, I have made quite a lot changes which hopefully has improved the paper. Please let me know what you think!

I have a few questions/suggestions:

- What would you say are the main objectives of this chapter? I think we need a short paragraph on page 1 with aims and chapter outline
- Public expenditures are interesting and good arguments are provided for why policy makers should pay more attention to data collection and analyses. What I miss however, are some paragraphs explaining how public expenditures fit into the broader picture of policy evaluation approaches like cost-benefit analyses or cost-of-illness analyses. Do you think this should be included in chapter 1 or in chapter 2 and would any of you be happy to write these paragraphs?
- Is the wording of the definition on page 1 correct? ("The general government sector is composed by all resident institutional units that are other non-market producers whose output is intended for individual and collective consumption (at the central, state, regional, local and by the social security funds) in order to perform its functions")
- Is the statement on page 5 correct? ("Reuter (2006) proposes an alternative definition for public expenditure on drug control policies, based on the concept that any expenditure financing enforcement programs either reduce the demand for drugs by raising the transaction costs of buying drugs or lower the supply of drugs by making trafficking and production more difficult and risky. This classification does not have associated any systematic data collection exercise realized at an international level»).
- The last recommendation on page 12 doesn't really belong here, do you think? ("To measure the cost of unintended consequences of drug control policies in monetary units an approach is needed that is coherent with calculating the cost of illicit drug use. In this respect the international guidelines that were produced for estimating the costs of substance abuse based on the COI studies should be used as a starting point to develop an analogous methodology».)
- I have removed the text about the Canadian COI estimate as this is not particularly relevant in this chapter. Agree?
- I suggest to delete Appendix 3 too, do you agree?
- Are the steps described under "Methodologies for estimation" taken from another publication or developed here? I think this works well!
- I think the national examples of drug-related expenditures (Belgium, France, USA etc.) would be improved if we could be more specific on drug control expenditures and present actual, or relative, figures. Could you please add that?
- The references need to be sorted out

I don't know how you will organize the work within your group. Claudia has contributed a lot already and she will be travelling to Australia (!) soon. Could you Fatima take the lead and organize the work please? In order to give the other experts time to carefully read the text before the Reykjavik meeting I need to have your revised draft by Tuesday 19 May. Please let me know if this seems possibleJ

Best regards,
Anne Line

Dear all,

The Reykjavik meeting is quickly approaching! Please find enclosed a draft of Chapter 2 and the first part of Chapter 3 to be discussed at the meeting. As you will see, the some parts of the enclosed manuscript of Chapter 3 still misses some editing, but please read to better understand the chosen approach.

Yossi, Janusz and Pavel will present the latter part of Chapter 3.

Thank you for all your efforts so far! We have come a long way since the first meeting in Oslo about one year ago. Still, the meeting ahead – our last one – will be very important for quality of our output. Please take the time to read and critically assess what is sent you.

Looking forward to seeing you all in Reykjavik!

Anne Line

Dear Colleagues,

Please find attached the revised report of the 4th meeting following comments received.

- Furthermore I have been notified by some of you that the following agreed deadlines have not been respected:
1 June 2016 : Comments and notes from the meeting on tables and text parts of chapter 3 to be sent to Yossi-Harel-Fisch, copies to Anne Line Bretteville-Jensen and Claudia Storti.
- 15 June 2016: Revised chapter 3 sent out to group members by Yossi Harel-Fisch

This is regrettable in view of the commitments we undertook at the last meeting and it holds up subsequent work by other colleagues who rely on this work to be done as the basis for their chapter contributions.

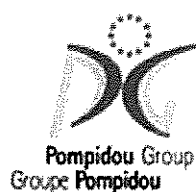

Following consultations with Anne Line, the Chair of the group, we have now set a final deadline of 25 of July 2016 for all chapters to reach Anne Line and the Secretariat. This deadline needs to be definitely respected in order not endanger the timely delivery of the report to the Permanent Correspondents.

Best regards and thank you for your cooperation in this matter

Thomas

Dear all,

Please find enclosed a first draft of Chapter 1. There will be also some introductory paragraphs to Chapter 2 and 3 too, so this is just the more general introduction to the task we were given. I have tried to keep the text relatively short and without too many references and by that adhere to what Thomas suggested for a Pompidou Group report. Have I managed the format right Thomas?

Please, all of you, read carefully and critically. It is important, however, that any comments, suggestions or questions are written in the text (use track changes mode in Word) and send it to me the sooner the better. If you think bits are missing or that certain topics or themes should be included – please submit the missing sentences or paragraphs, we're all in this together! Also note: I know Figure 2 is really crappy made, I'll make sure that a more professional figure will be in place if you think the idea behind the figure is worth keeping and before the report is printed. Is this the type of figure you had in mind Pavel?

Let me take this opportunity to wish you all a very good summer and remind you of the deadline of 25 July for chapter 2, 3 and 4. We cannot proceed with planning of a possible fifth meeting before a full draft of all chapters are written, so please do your very best to respect this date. From what you said at the Reykjavik meeting, you would have time to work on your parts in June and July, so I look forward to read your drafts then. I have made time available for the report from 25 July, so it is really important for the progress that all respect our agreement.

Best wishes,
Anne Line

Thank you for edit and improve their language! We continue to work on the corresponding text.

Dear All

In view of the deadline (25th July) set for contributions to be sent to Anne Line, I hereby send you Chapter 2, as agreed on our meeting in Reykjavik with the following changes:

- 1) I have inserted comments and additions by Claudia Costa Storti received (version 25th May) after I had already sent Chapter 2 to Anne Line (19th May), prior to our meeting in Iceland. Thank you Claudia, excellent work!
- 2) An insertion suggested by Sergey Tsarev at the Icelandic meeting, but not yet confirmed. References for the studies mentioned are not provided, Sergey can you send them to me?

Also in the part of France, I think the study mentioned in the text should be referred, whoever is the author of that part, please step forward and send me the reference.

Please bear in mind that the final draft must be sent by the 25th July, so let me know if you agree with the final text and send the references missing.

Otherwise I will formally send Anne Line this reviewed version, with the a commentary regarding Russia's suggestions, for which a formal approval is still pending.

Thanks!

Have a lovely week.

Dear Torbjorn, Dear All

Deadline to presenting our final comments and contributions is coming soon, and so far I have struggled with a text on page 3 of Chapter 1 and comments submitted by Torbjorn.

I think that the phrase “The conventions do not oblige any penalty to be imposed for consumption per se”^{[FT1] [FT2]}, is far too simplistic, and therefore went to check a legal opinion that was submitted within the report of the Expert Group appointed by the Portuguese Prime Minister in February 1998.

You can find it here, but only in Portuguese: http://www.sicad.pt/BK/Publicacoes/Lists/SICAD_PUBLICACOES/Attachments/48/ENcomissao.pdf

This legal opinion is by a law teacher from the Coimbra University, and was the basis for the change operated in the Portuguese law which decriminalized drug consumption and subjected it to an administrative sanction:

(...) As for drug consumption, however, the nature of (the United Nations Drug) conventional standards seems to us diverse: in addition to a purpose assumed to be crucial – the treatment of drug and psychotropic substances users – Parties are left open the possibility of alternative, not only to a criminal sanction, as well as (an administrative) condemnation. What can only be understood in the light that drug consumption has not been typified as a type of crime (by the Conventions) - being therefore outside the scope of the criminal right - or, in a second case, in light of a framework guided by the procedural principle of opportunity. For above all, paragraph 2 Art. 3 of the Convention against Illicit Traffic in Narcotic Drugs, relating to consumption, states that the criminalization may be waived if conflicting with the constitutional principles and the basic concepts of the legal domestic (national) system - unlike, as trafficking, there is no Subject to the obligation of sanctioning by criminal law. However, in addition to the criminalizing imperatives have seemed undesirable to the legislator constitutional, one of the fundamental concepts of our (Portuguese) criminal law is the principle of subsidiarity or ultima ratio of its intervention. All of these elements indicate therefore towards consideration of consumption drugs as an undesirable phenomenon that the State is fighting. The use of criminal law, however, appears only as one of the possible options of the ordinary legislator."

At issue is essentially paragraph 2 of Article 3 of the United Nations Convention of 1988, which states that, "Subject to the constitutional principles and the basic concepts of its legal system, the Parties shall take the necessary measures to establish as criminal offenses under its domestic law, when committed intentionally, the possession, purchase or cultivation of drugs or psychotropic substances for personal consumption contrary to the provisions in Convention of 1961 as amended and the 1971 Convention."

So my proposal is to rephrase the text to the following:

"The Conventions do not impose (or oblige) that countries impose a criminal sanction for consumption per se."

Have a nice summer!

Hi Claudia,

Sorry for hanging up so quickly but a signal told me that someone was desperately trying to reach me – it was only on their fourth attempt I said goodbye to you.

Please find enclosed the most recent version of Chapter 1. As you will see, I have tried to define “drug control policy” and later, under the public expenditure heading, I define drug control costs to mean the same as supply reduction costs. I think we can get away with that while at the same time also focus on unintended consequences of law enforcement towards drug users. By the way, I agree with you; law enforcement DO comprise all actions that enforce the drug laws, i.e. it includes prisons etc.,.

Thanks for your comments to Chapter 1! I have implemented some of your suggestions, not all. The concepts of costs we have already discussed. And in principle I agree with your suggestion for Figure 1, still I stick to a revised version of what I previously made because I want to focus only on what we are dealing with in this report (we do not say much about intended consequences/befits, private costs etc). That’s why I say in the text that the Figure is an outline of the report...

Let me know what you think. If you have time, we could talk briefly on Monday. If so, let me know what time that suits you.

Have a great weekend!

Thanks a lot Claudia! This was very useful!

I liked the definition of drug control policy (Drug control policy comprises the complete criminal justice structure and processes, i.e. it includes crime prevention, defining the legal framework, policing, prosecution, sentencing, imprisonments and probation and community services as well as social reintegration interventions) but I assume that “social reintegration interventions” is targeting at inmates and not at drug users per se? Social reintegration of drug users in treatment for instance is a demand side initiatives, right? If so, I will add that to the definition.

In the last paragraph however, I meant that if more drug users are caught by the authorities, there is an increased risk for unintended consequences like stigmatization etc. I'll try to make that more clear.

Thanks again!

No news at all, I'm afraid. Despite the deadline of 25 July, I have heard nothing from Yossi, Januzs and Pavel about the last part of Chapter 3. Fivos said he would work on the first part but haven't heard from him in a while either. I should send them a reminder (!) today.

Drafts of Chapter 1 and 2 are ok, I think, and I am really happy that we also, thanks to you, have a first draft Chapter 4! There is a meeting planned with Thomas and Elena and Torbjørn in Paris 5 October. Hopefully, a complete draft will be ready by then. If so, I will see if there is possible to arrange a last meeting where we can discuss the full report.

Here at FHI it is getting really busy after the long summer break. That's ok. I will try hard, however, not to get overloaded. Time will tell if I succeed..

Enjoy your well-deserved vacation! I hope everything works out really well and that you will have a nice and relaxing time with family and friends.

We'll get in touch again in SeptemberJ

Cheers,
Anne Line

Dear Anne Line,

I have just finished talking to Thomas by phone. In fact, since I was requested to write brief summary of this project, in order to integrate it in the foreseen EMCDDA outputs, I will have to clarify a few topics.

Here is what I have understand from my phone conversation with Thomas. I copy Thomas, to check if there has been anything that I may have not gotten right.

Further to what is defined in the chart, it has been agreed that all editorial and publication costs will be at the charge of the Pompidou Group.

If you see that any step is missing from the flow chart add it up, please.

Further, since I will have to write a note to my colleagues before Friday, please comment it back asap.

Thanks

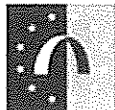

Cláudia

Dear Thomas,

As a follow up of our conversation of yesterday, I enclose herein some suggestions for peer reviewers.

I suggest that you frame the aim of the publication, because these persons are more used to make peer reviews for scientific publications than for these type of very specific publications.

I have written this text for internal EMCDDA purposes with a short description of how do I see it. I wonder if this may be on any help to you.

This project makes a concise description of the 'state-of-the-Art' of the knowledge available concerning public expenditure on supply reduction initiatives. It describes main concepts, exemplifies good practices on estimation methods and presents the main data published by official entities. Further, it briefly refers to their limitations. The final aim of this publication is twofold. First, to contribute for increasing international awareness about the importance of this field of analysis. Second, to raise public awareness of the need to further invest increasing availability, comparability and reliability of data and estimates.

This project has been led by Anne Line Bretteville-Jensen and prepared by the Pompidou Group's expert group on 'Effects and associated costs of supply reduction'. This group contains a set of representative national experts and staff from the Pompidou and EMCDDA. This report is expected to result in a joint report of the Pompidou Group and the EMCDDA.

In terms of target audience, this publication aims to reach both those commissioning - or thinking of commissioning - expenditure/cost studies and those carrying out the studies. This may include accounting authorities; entities who are seeking funds to finance their service provision; researchers; officials looking to evaluate drug policy priorities, develop drug policy strategies and action plans; and those involved in the economic evaluation of drug policy.

The experts I though could help improving this report are:

Prof. Freya Vander Laenen

Institute for International Research on Criminal Policy, Ghent University
Freya.VanderLaenen@UGent.be

Prof. Pierre Kopp
Université Panthéon-Sorbonne (Paris I)
pierre.kopp@univ-paris1.fr

OR

Marysia Ogrodnik, PHD candidate
Université Panthéon-Sorbonne (Paris I)
Marysia.Ogrodnik@univ-paris1.fr

In case you need additional names, please, let me know. Please, keep me also informed how things proceed since I need to respond internally in the EMCDDA, of how the project develops .

I hope it suits you

Kind regards

Cláudia

Subject: The common PG/EMCDDA publication on public expenditure on supply reduction initiatives - URGENT

Dear Anne Line,

I have just finished talking to Thomas by phone. In fact, since I was requested to write brief summary of this project, in order to integrate it in the foreseen EMCDDA outputs, I will have to clarify a few topics.

Here is what I have understand from my phone conversation with Thomas. I copy Thomas, to check if there has been anything that I may have not gotten right.

Further to what is defined in the chart, it has been agreed that all editorial and publication costs will be at the charge of the Pompidou Group.

If you see that any step is missing from the flow chart add it up, please.

Further, since I will have to write a note to my colleagues before Friday, please comment it back asap.

Thanks

Cláudia

Dear Claudia,

I have read the manuscript and have some questions and suggestions. As it might be easier to discuss them over the phone than to write them down and explain, I wonder whether it would be possible for you to talk tomorrow (or on Wednesday)? It shouldn't take very long. When would be a good time for you, I am flexible the next two days.

Dear Anne Line and Claudia,

First of all congratulation to Claudia for her effort. I think it is a very good work. As you may see I included many information and data. You may choose what you think it fits to the document as I was not really prepared for such work on this chapter. So ignore what you think its irrelevant.

Please let me know if you need any further clarification or support.

All the best,

Dear Cláudia,

Here is the most recent version of the paper. Would it be possible for you to read it by tomorrow afternoon? Sorry for the very short notice but Fivos was late and then I was too busy with other things at work.

Unfortunately, when I finally received Fivos' contribution, it became clear that he had misunderstood what I asked him to do – he did a lot of work on something I can't really use and did not do what I had hoped he would. He was sorry and said he could do it over the next few days. However, he doesn't currently have access to the papers cited for the empirical national examples (Croatia, Belgium, Italy, Luxemburg, Russia). Do you have them? If so, could you send them to him? Please let me know if you don't, and I'll try to find them for him. I asked him only for a few sentences for each country. I can insert those after Thomas has done his English editing of the manuscript, I think, so I will nevertheless send the manuscript to Thomas once I get your response on the current version.

All the best,
Anne Line

Dear Anne Line, dear Claudia,

Thanks a lot for your work, I went through the text and sent it out for review (Prof. Pierre Kopp and Prof. Freya Vander Laenen). They have time until 15 November to submit their review. We will have to slightly adjust our timetable therefore.

As for Yossi, I will meet the Permanent Correspondent of Israel on 16 November to discuss the issue. As for now, we will have to simply 'count him out'. This means once again extra work but I don't see any other choice. As said, I stand ready to take on some of the obligations. Please let me know what you would want me to do.

So much for now, best regards,

Yours

Dear Thomas,

Please find enclosed the new draft of the joint EMCDDA/Pompidou group publication. Claudia and Fivos have given valuable inputs and I have spent quite some time on it. Still, I'm sure there is plenty of room for improvements! You may get some ideas already when you do the English editing, and the reviewers will probably come up with additional suggestions. Could you please take a special look at the conclusions and recommendations as they are particularly important?

As you saw, I sent a reminder to Yossi on Thursday – a week after he (again!) had promised to send me their contribution. I haven't heard from he yet. If I don't get anything from him by Monday we should perhaps discuss how we then shall approach him?

Best,
Anne Line

Dear Anne Line, dear Claudia,

Thanks a lot for your work, I went through the text and sent it out for review (Prof. Pierre Kopp and Prof. Freya Vander Laenen). They have time until 15 November to submit their review. We will have to slightly adjust our timetable therefore.

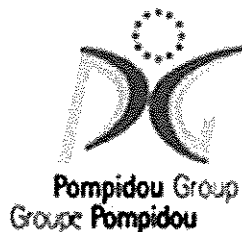

As for Yossi, I will meet the Permanent Correspondent of Israel on 16 November to discuss the issue. As for now, we will have to simply 'count him out'. This means once again extra work but I don't see any other choice. As said, I stand ready to take on some of the obligations. Please let me know what you would want me to do.

So much for now, best regards,

Yours

Dear Thomas,

Please find enclosed the new draft of the joint EMCDDA/Pompidou group publication. Claudia and Fivos have given valuable inputs and I have spent quite some time on it. Still, I'm sure there is plenty of room for improvements! You may get some ideas already when you do the English editing, and the reviewers will probably come up with additional suggestions. Could you please take a special look at the conclusions and recommendations as they are particularly important?

As you saw, I sent a reminder to Yossi on Thursday – a week after he (again!) had promised to send me their contribution. I haven't heard from him yet. If I don't get anything from him by Monday we should perhaps discuss how we then shall approach him?

Best,
Anne Line

Dear Claudia,

Enclosed you will find an updated version of the paper. As you will see, I have changed the introduction quite a lot – hopefully for the better! Some new elements are included and I now

- say something about private expenditure
- expand a little on what we mean with a “balanced approach”
- define supply control policy better (have deleted the term “supply side” as I think this confused Kopp and led him to Reuters mentioning on supply and demand side shifts)

I haven't made any changes to the conclusion (yet?).

We did agree to include a “Box” with definitions like suggested by Freya? It may be a good idea. There are a lot of – mostly economic terms – that we could define. In addition to those suggested by Freya, terms such as cost-benefit, cost-utility, cost-effectiveness etc.

Fivos will soon send me his table on the national studies. When we also can include, with the help of your assistant, more information on the available data sources, I think this piece of work will have reach a “sufficiently good” standard.

I have received your Insight for review and will do my best to send you my comments by 2 January. I will probably not have the capacity to read all 220 pages but focus mostly on the ones you suggested. If you want, I could ask Hans Olav, the economist I said you could contact at the start of the project, to review parts of the document too?

Have a great weekend!

Dear Cláudia,

Here is the revised document. Please read and let me know what you think. I have inserted a few remarks, which it would be really good if you could respond to (the first is just a comment to your previous remark). I started to add "planned expenditures" and "executed expenditures" to the glossary but decided in the end not to – is that ok with you?

I do hope that you agree with me in that the document now is ready for submission (I still await Fivos' input to the section "Examples of national studies" though).

Have a safe trip (where are you going?)! And I hope the visit to your doctor went well. Please keep me posted.

I know you're busy and I'm sorry for adding to your workload. Still, I need to inform Thomas when he can expect the document. Shall I suggest Tuesday next week? Please use "track changes" if you add anything.

All the best,
Anne Line

Dear Claudia,

I skipped the table from Fivos in the end and instead revised the text we already had under the heading «Examples of national estimates». I have skimmed through the relevant papers, except for Kopp (2015) as I don't read French. As you will see, I have tried to incorporate a little more about the methods and the results.

I would appreciate if you could briefly read through that section before I submit it to Thomas, but I will understand if you don't have the time – just let me know.

Best,
Anne Line

I hope it helps.

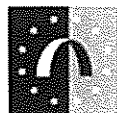

Then, when you revise the document, I think it should be sent to Thomas asap to prevent delaying this document. Just put me in copy for me to know at what stage the project is, in case anybody asks me here.

What do you think?

Dear Thomas,

I wish you a very Happy 2017!!! All the best for you and your closest ones.

I was asked today about the progress of our common project. I need to provide to the EMCDDA's editorial committee an up date of the progress of our joint paper. Compared to our last agreed calendar, we are currently late in the tasks which are marked in blue in the calendar below.

Output	Length	Delivery date	Person in charge
Review/accept EMCDDA last proposed draft of the full text	1 week	7/10/2016 - done	ALBJ
Propose 2/3 external reviewers	1 week	7/10/2016- done	CCS
Write a proposal of the 'Foreword' text	4 weeks	28/10/2016 NOT DONE	TK
Scientific peer review	¾ weeks	15/11/2016 done	External reviewers
Make a proposal of graphic layout to EMCDDA	4 weeks	28/11/2016 NOT DONE	TK
Linguistic peer review	¾ weeks	15/12/2016 NOT DONE	PG

EMCDDA approval of the main text and forward draft		31/01/2017 NOT DONE	EMCDDA (Paul Griffiths)
Text presented in its final layout for approval	3 weeks	20/02/2017 NOT DONE	PG
Final EMCDDA/PGroup approval of the publication		31 March 2017 NOT DONE	EMCDDA/PG

Could you please give an up date time plan?

Further, I was also thinking to submit this project as a presentation in the May ISSDP conference. For that I would like to have your permission, and I will use the Pompidour Group name as sponsor if you agree, as well as the name of the other contributors to this chapter. I think, if the paper is accepted, this will give visibility and scientific credibility to the project. I need to submit the abstract before 16/01, Monday.

I look forward to receiving your views

Dear Thomas,

I have been thinking about the possibility of presenting this joint paper at the 2017 ISSDP conference. I have spoken with Anne Line who thinks it is a good idea to give visibility to this project. What do you think?

I have been discussing the abstract with Anne Line. We were thinking to include all contributors as authors, i.e., Bretteville-Jensen, Costa Storti, Mikulic, Trigueiros, Papamalis, Piscociu, Kattau

What do you think?

I need a quick reply because deadline for submitting abstracts is next Monday.

Thanks and kind regards,

Cláudia

Dear Claudia,

Sorry for delaying the submission process but I thought we could improve the abstract substantially by spending a little more time on it. None of us really have much time for this now, I know, still I think we might would regret it if we had submitted an abstract below our own expectations.

I had a go on it this afternoon. See what you think and send me your comments. I would like to have a read of it again tomorrow morning – I am “blind” right now. Hopefully, the ISSDP will accept the abstract as it will be submitted only a few hours after the deadline.

Good morning Claudia,

I just had a read through the abstract and made some minor changes. I know we (I?) could have gone on like this for weeks; made small improvements to the text every time we read it, but we don't have that time.

The abstract is perhaps a bit too long. If so, we could delete the first paragraph. On the other hand, the rules/word limits may not be applied very strictly? Please read and let me know what you think and we will submit it very soon.

I am available most of the day today, except for a meeting between 10-11 (Oslo time).

Best,

Dear all,

Happy new year! I hope 2017 have started well for all of you!

First, a short update: For various reasons the progress of our report is much delayed and we could not publish it as planned last autumn. That is very unfortunate. We are slowly moving in the right direction, however, and after some hard work by a few expert group members and Thomas, there are now drafts of Chapter 1, 2 and, soon, also of Chapter 3. Chapter 4 will be finalized when drafts of the first three are completed. I will send you the reports for comments when manuscripts all four chapters are ready.

As you remember, to increase visibility, we aimed for a joint report with the EMCDDA on the topic of public expenditure. This joint report, which is a revised version of Chapter 2, is about to be submitted to the EMCDDA. Please find the draft enclosed. The manuscript is currently under English language editing. If you have any comments to the text, I will need your feedback within this week (Friday 20 January).

Thanks for your response to the abstract Claudia sent you yesterday. She will present a paper based on Chapter 2 at the ISSDP conference in May. This to further increase the visibility of our work. Thanks Claudia!

Kind regards,
Anne Line
