Good meeting between Joost Korte and the EU chemical industry association Cefic which served as a courtesy visit, allowing Joost and some of our key Cefic contacts to get to know each other. Moreover, Cefic used the occasion to express the association’s strong concerns about the BREXIT negotiations which were incidentally just launched on the same day (19 June 2017).

During the meeting, the following topics were discussed:

➢ Launch of the BREXIT negotiations – Cefic underlined that the association and its members are very worried about the possibility of a "cliff-edge, hard BREXIT" and the future EU-UK regulatory divergence this could entail. The enclosed, publicly available Bloomberg article sheds some light on the respective concerns of the EU chemical industry.
