Attachments: 20171027_sef_Policy_Lunch_Draft.pdf

Dear Ms Malmström,

At the moment, members of the United Nations negotiate elements of a possible legally-binding instrument on business and human rights in Geneva. Before the meeting, it seemed as a window of opportunity to go beyond mostly voluntary means as established by the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights.

With our upcoming sef: Policy Lunch on 20 November 2017, the Development and Peace Foundation (sef:) and the International Alliance of Catholic Development Agencies (CIDSE) would like to inform on and discuss the outcomes of the working group meeting.

Speakers already confirmed are Art.4.1(b) (Art.4.1(b) , CIDSE) and Art.4.1(b) Art.4.1(b) , Art.4.1(b)).
