VI. Evaluation and incorporation of environmental risks

Evaluation and incorporation of environmental risks

Environmental risks:	The procedures for environmental and social due diligence have been agreed in OECD 'Common Approaches' for officially supported export credits. The screening procedure to identify which transactions should be classified and reviewed on environmental & social impacts applies to all incoming applications. The review procedure on environmental and social aspects of the transaction and the project will take place in the following cases: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - If the agreed contract price exceeds 10 million - If the agreed contract price is below 10 million but the contract concerns a sensitive sector, or a sensitive area. - In 2016 221 applications were received - 207 applications underwent preliminary screening. - In 2016 96 policies were granted with a total volume of EUR 2.7 billion. - This resulted in-depth environmental & social review of 51 projects assigned to environmental impact categories A and B.
a) Number/exposure of transactions Category A	Officially supported, environmentally relevant projects by categories and industrial sectors: 2016: 16 Category A projects (total order value of 2.1 billion euros): 10 Greenhouse horticulture and agriculture 5 Dredging and land reclamation 1 oil and gas
b) Number/exposure of transactions Category B	Officially supported, environmentally relevant projects by categories and industrial sectors: 2016: 4 Category B projects (total order value of 50.2 million euros): 3 Dredging and land reclamation 1 Greenhouse horticulture and agriculture
How are environmental risks, which can carry other relevant risks, taken into account in the officially supported export credit activities?	The Dutch government will only cover risks relating to export transactions and direct investments if the export or investment in question is not associated with bribery, or the breach of fundamental labour standards, and does not have unacceptable environmental and social impacts. To identify, assess and justify these risks an environmental and social review procedure and policy is in place in line with the OECD Common Approaches. Parallel to the environmental & social review procedure the Dutch government always assesses the credit-worthiness of the foreign buyer and if necessary the guarantor, the market situation and the country risk.
