

Rueil-Malmaison, November 16th 2017

Maros Sefcovic
Vice President of the European Commission
European Commission

Dear Vice President Sefcovic,

First, I would like to thank you for your strategic initiative bringing together the whole of the European battery value chain.

I reconfirm Group PSA's high interest in participating in the EU Battery Alliance.
, is the key contact person in Group PSA organization to pursue the cooperation.

As a leading vehicle manufacturer and mobility services provider, PSA groupe is clearly a major potential customer for European battery cells. Therefore, we can contribute our knowledge and experience to the Alliance.

- Technical requirements and specifications for mobility batteries
- Predisposing the mobility battery for second life and recycling in an eco-conception process
- Battery pack design

The European Union could also contribute to accelerating the emergence of the complete battery value chain by reviewing all relevant regulation. Simplification of rules for battery second life and battery transport would support the industry.

We remain confident that there is an opportunity to establish a competitive European battery industry.

With my very best regards,

