Dear Commissioner Gentiloni,

It was a pleasure to meet with you in Davos. Thank you again for taking the time out of your busy schedule. I greatly valued having the opportunity to exchange views with you on a range of important topics affecting people, the environment, economies and societies across Europe, as well as share Apple's positions.

I hope to have conveyed my personal commitment - and that of Apple - to continue our positive and constructive role in addressing current challenges and building a brighter future. As you know, we strongly support the multilateral efforts at the OECD to address tax challenges from digitalization of the economy.

If, at any point in time, you would find it helpful to discuss or enquire about my or Apple's views or support on any matter, please do not hesitate to reach out to me directly. In the meantime, as discussed, I plan on traveling [REDACTED] and hope to be able to follow up with you on the topics we discussed in Davos.

Yours sincerely,

Tim Cook
