Dear Colleagues,

The first meeting of the Working Party of Company Law (expert level) dealing with the proposal for public Country-by-Country Reporting (CBCR) under the Estonian Presidency is scheduled for Wednesday, 20th of September, 2017 (invitation with precise details is forthcoming).

On 4th of July 2017, the European Parliament approved, in first reading, the proposed Directive on public CBCR and adopted a number of amendments (see Annex II) on the original proposal from the Commission.

Considering these amendments, the Presidency seeks further guidance from the Member States on a limited number of issues as outlined in the Annex I.

In addition, any comments on Maltese compromise text (st10525/17) are welcome.

We look forward to productive cooperation.

Best regards,

Mr Taivo Põrk (Chair)  Ms Mirel Vaidlo (Deputy Chair)
ANNEX I

I.  Level of geographical detail in the report

Amendment No 43 adopted by the EP would require the information within the report to be presented separately for each tax jurisdiction outside the Union, rather than in aggregated form for all except non-cooperative tax jurisdictions.

Since this alteration, which would substantially change the overall balance of the proposal, has nevertheless received strong backing from the EP where it appears to be considered critical to avoid putting European companies at a disadvantage, the Presidency considers it prudent to once more consult the views of the Member States regarding potential disaggregation of all third-country data.

II.  Safe-harbor clause

Amendment No 83 adopted by the EP introduces a safe-harbor clause to the proposal that is broadly similar to the one included in the latest Maltese compromise text in that both would grant undertakings an opportunity to seek renewable exemption from Member States in order to omit commercially sensitive information from the report. While the Presidency recalls that the current wording represents a difficult compromise, it has been drawn to our attention that such a regime could prove to be rather burdensome for undertakings, who may need to seek such exemptions from a number of different Member States in parallel. It is also feared that absence (and difficulty of providing) a clear set of guidelines required to assess commercial sensitivity of information is almost guaranteed to lead to very uneven application of the directive.

We would therefore propose a different possible solution for the consideration of Member States: deleting the safe harbor clause while extending the deadline of publication of the report in Article 48d from 12 months after the balance sheet date to 24 months. After 24 months the report would have to be published in full, without omissions. This might somewhat ease the concern over revealing commercially sensitive information while still providing transparency sought by the public.

III.  Statement by statutory auditor

Several Member States have previously expressed concern that statement of statutory auditor as currently foreseen in Article 48f is of limited practical value. Should the deadline of publication of the report be extended as proposed above, statutory auditors could, instead of verifying whether or not a report on income tax information has been published, state whether or not the undertaking will be required to publish this report in the following year. This way, they would at least clearly establish whether or not their client falls under the scope of the Directive as per Article 48b.

The Presidency would welcome opinions of Member States on these issues, either proffered during the meeting or in form of written submissions.

(Ordinary legislative procedure: first reading)

Amendment 1
Proposal for a directive
Recital -1 (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(-1) Equality of tax treatment for all, and in particular for all undertakings, is a sine qua non for the single market. A coordinated and harmonised approach to the implementation of national tax systems is vital for the proper functioning of the single market, and would contribute to preventing tax avoidance and profit shifting.

Amendment 2
Proposal for a directive
Recital -1 a (new)

1 The matter was referred back for interinstitutional negotiations to the committees responsible, pursuant to Rule 59(4), fourth subparagraph (A8-0227/2017).
Tax avoidance and tax evasion, along with profit-shifting schemes, have deprived governments and populations of the resources necessary to, among other things, ensure that there is universal free access to public education and health services and state social services, and have deprived states of the possibility of ensuring a supply of affordable housing and public transport, and of building infrastructure that is essential in order to achieve social development and economic growth. In short, such schemes have been a factor of injustice, inequality and economic, social and territorial divergences.

Amendment 3
Proposal for a directive
Recital -1 b (new)

A fair and effective corporate tax system should respond to the urgent need for a progressive and fair global tax policy, promote the redistribution of wealth and combat inequalities.

Amendment 4
Proposal for a directive
Recital 1

In recent years, the challenge posed by corporate income tax avoidance has increased considerably and has become a major focus of concern within the Union and globally. The European Council in its conclusions of 18 December 2014 acknowledged the urgent need to advance efforts in the fight against tax avoidance.
both at global and Union level. The Commission in its communications entitled ‘Commission Work Programme 2016 - No time for business as usual’ and ‘Commission Work Programme 2015 - A New Start’ identified as a priority the need to move to a system whereby the country in which profits are generated is also the country of taxation. The Commission also identified as a priority the need to respond to our societies’ call for fairness and tax transparency.

Acknowledged the urgent need to advance efforts in the fight against tax avoidance both at global and Union level. The Commission in its communications entitled ‘Commission Work Programme 2016 - No time for business as usual’ and ‘Commission Work Programme 2015 - A New Start’ identified as a priority the need to move to a system whereby the country in which profits are generated is also the country of taxation. The Commission also identified as a priority the need to respond to European citizens’ call for transparency and the need to act as a reference model for other countries. It is essential that transparency takes into account reciprocity between competitors.

Recital 2

Text proposed by the Commission

(2) The European Parliament in its resolution of 16 December 2015 on bringing transparency, coordination and convergence to corporate tax policies in the Union acknowledged that increased transparency in the area of corporate taxation can improve tax collection, make the work of tax authorities more efficient and ensure increased public trust and confidence in tax systems and governments.

Amendment

(2) The European Parliament in its resolution of 16 December 2015 on bringing transparency, coordination and convergence to corporate tax policies in the Union acknowledged that increased transparency, cooperation and convergence in the area of corporate taxation policy in the Union can improve tax collection, make the work of tax authorities more efficient, support policy-makers in assessing the current taxation system to develop future legislation, ensure increased public trust and confidence in tax systems and governments and improve investment decision-making based on more accurate risk profiles of companies.

Recital 2 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(2a) Public country-by-country reporting is an efficient and appropriate tool to increase transparency in relation to the activities of multinational enterprises, and to enable the public to assess the impact of those activities on the real economy. It will also improve shareholders’ ability to properly evaluate the risks taken by companies, lead to investment strategies based on accurate information and enhance the ability of decision-makers to assess the efficiency and the impact of national legislations.

Amendment

(2b) Country-by-country reporting will also have a positive impact on employees' rights to information and consultation as provided for in Directive 2002/14/EC and, by increasing knowledge on companies’ activities, on the quality of engaged dialogue within companies.

Amendment 8

Recital 4

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(4) Calling for a globally fair and modern international tax system in November 2015, the G20 endorsed the OECD ‘Action Plan on Base Erosion and Profit Shifting’ (BEPS) which aimed at providing governments with clear international solutions to address the gaps and mismatches in existing rules which allow corporate profits to shift to locations of no or low taxation, where no real value creation may take place. In particular, BEPS Action 13 introduces a country-by-country reporting by certain multinational undertakings to national tax authorities on a confidential basis. On 27 January 2016, the Commission adopted the ‘Anti-Tax Avoidance Package’. One of the objectives of that package is to transpose into Union law, the BEPS Action 13 by amending Council Directive 2011/16/EU.\footnote{Council Directive 2011/16/EU of 15 February 2011 on administrative cooperation in the field of taxation and repealing Directive 77/799/EEC (OJ L 64, 11.3.2011, p. 1).}

Amendment 12
Proposal for a directive
Recital 4 d (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

Amendment

(4d) Since the fight against tax evasion, tax avoidance and aggressive tax planning can only be successful with joint action on international level, it is imperative that the Union, while continuing to be a global leader in this struggle, coordinate its actions with international actors, for instance within the OECD framework. Unilateral actions, even if very ambitious, do not have a real chance of being successful, and, in addition, such actions put at risk the competitiveness of European companies and harm the Union’s investment climate.
Amendment 13
Proposal for a directive
Recital 4 e (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

(4e) More transparency in financial disclosure results in a win-win situation as tax administrations will be more efficient, civil society more involved, employees better informed, and investors less risk-averse. In addition, undertakings will benefit from better relations with stakeholders, resulting in more stability, along with easier access to finance due to a clearer risk profile and an enhanced reputation.

Amendment 14
Proposal for a directive
Recital 5

Text proposed by the Commission

(5) Enhanced public scrutiny of corporate income taxes borne by multinational undertakings carrying out activities in the Union is an essential element to further foster corporate responsibility, to contribute to the welfare through taxes, to promote fairer tax competition within the Union through a better informed public debate and to restore public trust in the fairness of the national tax systems. Such public scrutiny can be achieved by means of a report on income tax information, irrespective of where the ultimate parent undertaking of the multinational group is established.

Amendment

(5) In addition to the increased transparency created by country-by-country reporting to national tax authorities, enhanced public scrutiny of corporate income taxes borne by multinational undertakings carrying out activities in the Union is an essential element to promote corporate accountability, and to further foster corporate social responsibility, to contribute to the welfare through taxes, to promote fairer tax competition within the Union through a better informed public debate, and to restore public trust in the fairness of the national tax systems. Such public scrutiny can be achieved by means of a report on income tax information, irrespective of where the ultimate parent undertaking of the multinational group is established. Public scrutiny, however, has to be conducted without harming the investment climate in the Union or the competitiveness of Union companies, especially SMEs as defined in this Directive and mid-cap companies as defined in Regulation (EU) 2015/1017\textsuperscript{1a}, which should be excluded from the reporting obligation established under this Directive.

Amendment 15
Proposal for a directive
Recital 5 a (new)

\textit{Text proposed by the Commission}

(5a) The Commission has defined corporate social responsibility (CSR) as the responsibility of enterprises for their impact on society. CSR should be company led. Public authorities can play a supporting role through a smart mix of voluntary policy measures and, where necessary, complementary regulation. Companies can become socially responsible either by following the law or by integrating social, environmental, ethical, consumer or human rights concerns into their business strategy and operations, or both.

Amendment 16
Proposal for a directive
Recital 6
Text proposed by the Commission

(6) The public should be able to scrutinise all the activities of a group when the group has certain establishments within the Union. For groups which carry out activities within the Union only through subsidiary undertakings or branches, subsidiaries and branches should publish and make accessible the report of the ultimate parent undertaking. However for reasons of proportionality and effectiveness, the obligation to publish and make accessible the report should be limited to medium-sized or large subsidiaries established in the Union, or branches of a comparable size opened in a Member State. The scope of Directive 2013/34/EU should therefore be extended accordingly to branches opened in a Member State by an undertaking which is established outside the Union.

Amendment

(6) The public should be able to scrutinise all the activities of a group when the group has certain establishments within and outside the Union. Groups with establishments within the Union should comply with the Union principles of tax good governance. Multinational undertakings are operating worldwide and their corporate behaviour has a substantial impact on developing countries. Providing their citizens access to corporate country-by-country information would allow them and tax administrations in their countries to monitor, assess and hold those companies to account. By making the information public for each tax jurisdiction where the multinational undertaking is operating, the Union would increase its policy coherence for development and limit potential tax avoidance schemes in countries where domestic resources mobilization has been identified as a key component of the Union development policy.

Such description might be based on the categorisation provided for in table 2 of the Annex III of Chapter V of the OECD “Transfer Pricing Guidelines on Documentation”. The report should include an overall narrative providing explanations in case of material discrepancies at group level between the amounts of taxes accrued and the amounts of taxes paid, taking into account corresponding amounts concerning previous financial years.

(9) In order to ensure a level of detail that enables citizens to better assess the contribution of multinational undertakings to welfare in each Member State, the information should be broken down by Member State. Moreover, information concerning the operations of multinational enterprises should also be shown with a high level of detail as regards certain tax jurisdictions which pose particular challenges. For all other third country operations, the information should be given in an aggregate number.

Amendment

(9) In order to ensure a level of detail that enables citizens to better assess the contribution of multinational undertakings to welfare in each jurisdiction in which they operate, both within and outside the Union, without harming the undertakings’ competitiveness, the information should be broken down by jurisdiction. Reports on income tax information can only be meaningfully understood and used if information is presented in a disaggregated fashion for each tax jurisdiction.

(9a) When the information to be disclosed could be considered commercially sensitive information by the undertaking, the latter should be able to request authorisation from the competent authority where it is established not to disclose the full extent of information. In cases in which the national competent authority is not a tax authority, the competent tax authority should be involved in the decision.

(11) To ensure that cases of non-compliance are disclosed to the public, statutory auditor(s) or audit firm(s) should check whether the report on income tax information has been submitted and presented in accordance with the requirements of this Directive and made accessible on the relevant undertaking’s website or on the website of an affiliated undertaking.

Amendment

(11) To ensure that cases of non-compliance are disclosed to the public, statutory auditor(s) or audit firm(s) should check whether the report on income tax information has been submitted and presented in accordance with the requirements of this Directive and made accessible on the relevant undertaking’s website or on the website of an affiliated undertaking, and that publicly disclosed information is in line with the audited financial information for the undertaking within the time limits provided for in this Directive.

Recital 11 a (new)

Text proposed by the Commission

(11a) Cases of infringements by undertakings and branches of the requirements on reporting on income tax information, giving rise to penalties by Member States, under Directive 2013/34/EU, should be reported in a public registry managed by the Commission. Those penalties could include, inter alia, administrative fines or exclusions from public calls for tenders and from the awarding of funding from the Union’s structural funds.

Amendment 21

Proposal for a directive
Recital 13

Text proposed by the Commission

(13) In order to determine certain tax jurisdictions for which a high level of detail should be shown, the power to adopt acts in accordance with Article 290 TFEU should be delegated to the Commission in respect of drawing up a common Union list of these tax jurisdictions. This list should be drawn up on the basis of certain criteria, identified on the basis of Annex 1 of the Communication from the Commission to the European Parliament and Council on an External Strategy for Effective Taxation (COM(2016) 24 final). It is of particular importance that the Commission carry out appropriate consultations during its preparatory work, including at expert level, and that those consultations be conducted in accordance with the principles laid down in the Interinstitutional Agreement on Better Law-Making as approved by the European Parliament, the Council and the Commission and pending formal signature. In particular, to ensure equal participation in the preparation of delegated acts, the European Parliament and the Council receive all documents at the same time as Member States' experts, and their experts systematically have access to meetings of Commission expert groups dealing with the preparation of delegated acts.

Those powers should be exercised in accordance with Regulation (EU) No 182/2011 of the European Parliament and of the Council.1a

Recital 14

Text proposed by the Commission

(14) Since the objective of this Directive cannot be sufficiently achieved by the Member States but can rather, by reason of its effect, be better achieved at Union level, the Union may adopt measures, in accordance with the principle of subsidiarity as set out in Article 5 of the Treaty on European Union. In accordance with the principle of proportionality as set out in that Article, this Directive does not go beyond what is necessary in order to achieve that objective.

Amendment

(14) Since the objective of this Directive cannot be sufficiently achieved by the Member States but can rather, by reason of its effect, be better achieved at Union level, the Union may adopt measures, in accordance with the principle of subsidiarity as set out in Article 5 of the Treaty on European Union. Union action is thus justified in order to address the cross-border dimension where there is aggressive tax planning or transfer pricing arrangements. This initiative responds to the concerns expressed by the interested parties about the need to tackle distortions in the single market without compromising Union competitiveness. It should not cause undue administrative burden on companies, generate further tax conflicts or pose the risk of double taxation. In accordance with the principle of proportionality as set out in that Article, this Directive does not go beyond what is necessary in order to achieve that objective, at least with regard to greater transparency.
