Dear Filomena,

I hope this email finds you well.

I am contacting you to request a meeting on the Digital Markets Act (DMA). I will be accompanied in the meeting by [REDACTED], who [REDACTED].

As the European Commission considers in more detail some of the proposals made by the co-legislators, we are keen to discuss with you a specific set of amendments brought forward. These includes stronger safeguards linked to privacy and security, which we very much welcome.

However, we are also concerned by some of the amendments proposed by the co-legislators, particularly in the context of 6.1.f, which we believe could create serious issues going forward, in terms of legal certainty, technological neutrality and proportionality.

I realise there are a great many demands on your time and very much appreciate your kind consideration of this request.

Yours sincerely,

[REDACTED]
