Dear Mr Berrigan,
[REDACTED]

I know it is very short notice, but I hope you don't mind me trying my luck.

We are preparing for the next EBF Board meeting [REDACTED], and I believe it would be highly valuable to have you as a guest at our next Board meeting which is taking place virtually on 23 November from 3 to 6 pm.

As part of the agenda, we will have exchanges on strategical issues for which the views of the European Commission would be highly valued, and notably:

- the position of banks in the context of the current "perfect storm" crisis (risks and vulnerabilities, inflation, tightening of monetary policy, energy crisis, standard of living crisis, measures at national level (windfall taxes, suspension of credit repayments, ...), the need of potential additional flexibility in forbearance measures
- The position of banks with regards to sustainability and ESG risks (incl. the impact of the current energy crisis, the importance of a global approach, the need for a phased approach to the development of EU Sustainability Standards (and convergence at international level), ..), the consequences of the recent outcome from the ECB thematic review, ...)
- Digital euro (state of progress, challenges and opportunities, the role of banks, ...)

[REDACTED] and I agree it would be great, therefore, if you could join remotely (as it is a virtual meeting) and at a time that is convenient to you (ideally between 16:00 and 17:00 CET, however we could try and accommodate a slightly later time slot for your agenda, given that the meeting is scheduled until 18:00 CET).

I believe it is also an opportunity for you to hear from our members and bankers (at the higher level) what their concerns are on these issues and possibly others.

I look forward to hearing from you. Thanking you very much in advance.

With kind regards,
[REDACTED]
