

European origin UHT milk will be procured FOB European ports. The milk will be packaged in 200ml Tetrapacks, the daily amount each school child will receive. Tetrapacks will be palletised to provide protection while in transit, and containerised for liner shipment to Syria. WFP will arrange liner shipment ex European ports to Latakia port in Syria. Syrian regulations stipulate that imported UHT milk can have a Best Use Before Date of no more than six months after production date, and that at least half of this must be remaining at the time of import. Therefore to ensure these regulations are met, suppliers will produce for WFP monthly batches of UHT milk which will be shipped each month ex European ports to Latakia. From Latakia port the milk will be loaded, still palletised, onto WFP-contracted trucks and transported to WFP's main warehouses in Tartous, Latakia, Homs, and Damascus. The milk will be temporarily stored at these warehouses where it will be consolidated with the other commodities school children will receive (date bars). The milk and date bars will then be transported on WFP-contracted trucks to schools across Syria, each warehouse supplying a specific area of the country. At the schools WFP's cooperating partners will take receipt of the commodities and arrange daily distributions of the milk and date bars to school children.
