Info from ES: People arriving on commercial will be picked up by us and directed to the special embarkation area. When necessary we will provide them with catering (I mean necessary because of the time of arrival). People arriving on charters will be located (if possible) by the "big plane" or very close to it. So we will try to make the embarkation as smooth as possible. In practice this only applies to UK because France will arrive at [redacted]. Reposibe person: [redacted]; or [redacted]
