◇ *What the Commission can do to support the request from the Future for Religious Heritage (FRH) to launch a mapping of Europe's remarkable religious heritage?

This study would also include a collection of good practice to adapt religious heritage to the needs of the 21st century (through adaptive reuse, for instance).

The European Framework for Action on Cultural Heritage does not foresee such a study, but religious heritage is supported by the EU through many policies and programmes, including the Creative Europe programme, the European Regional Development Fund and the Research and Innovation programme Horizon 2020. Projects are selected by means of an open and transparent procedure.
