Dear [REDACTED],

Thank you for your email.

Please find enclosed a draft programme of the EU-Asia Financial Services Dialogue as of 24 July. We have shared it with your colleagues [REDACTED] from the Financial services policy and international affairs Unit on 13 July as well as with the Asia Securities Industry & Financial Markets Association (ASIFMA), our partner for this event.

We would be very honoured if Vice-President Dombrovskis accepted our invitation to deliver a keynote address for this event- we are very flexible to accommodate his schedule and preferences; hence, we look forward to working with you to identify the most suitable time for Vice-President Dombrovskis to deliver his keynote.

There will also be a dinner in the evening bringing together approximately 250 participants (European and Asian regulators, public policymakers and industry representatives) where [REDACTED] of the IOSCO Board, will be giving an opening address.

We are in the process of securing the attendance of representatives from the FSB, national regulators/supervisors, the ESAs and have already received confirmation of the following high-level speakers:

- [REDACTED] t of the European Stability Mechanism
- [REDACTED] EU-India Delegation of the European Parliament
- [REDACTED] of the Monetary Authority of Singapore

Should you find it helpful, we are happy to set up a meeting to discuss in further detail Vice-President Dombrovskis' participation at the EU-Asia Financial Services Dialogue on 30 November. In the meantime, please let me know if you have any questions.

Once more, thank you for your kind consideration and we look forward to hearing from you.

With best regards,
