Subject: DMA: EIBF/FEP suggested amendments

Dear [redacted], dear [redacted],

Thank you once again for taking the time to meet with us over the past months to discuss the DMA and its importance for the book sector. For too long our sector has faced the consequences of tech giants' growing dominance and unfair practices. We therefore welcome the overall aim of this long-awaited proposal.

Based on our discussions and having analysed the proposal in great detail together with our colleagues in the publishing sector, we wish to share with you EIBF and FEP's joint amendments, which we believe would provide the text with more ambition, clarity, legal certainty and future proofness for the benefit of the European bookselling and publishing sector.

As we have already presented, our main requests concern: an extension of the scope, broader interoperability requirements for the book sector and future proofness of the regulation.

You can find our full suggested amendments attached.

As always, we remain at your disposal to discuss our arguments and amendments further.

Best wishes,
