Hi Aleksandra

Thank you for your email and your help setting up the meeting between EVP Timmermans and our [REDACTED] – It was great to see that both of them had so much agreement on the need for action on the energy challenges facing Europe. As [REDACTED] said we would like to help in your efforts with the Platform so thank you for connecting us with Mathew and his team.

I reached out to our team looking at the ideas [REDACTED] floated at the meeting and we could possibly offer a virtual meeting anytime between 10.00-14.00 Thursday 15 Sept – we probably would need 1-1.5 hours for a fruitful discussion. From our side there would be the following:

[REDACTED] – bp's [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] - [REDACTED] Global LNG Trading & Origination
[REDACTED] - [REDACTED] Europe Gas Trading & Origination

My colleague [REDACTED] who [REDACTED] gas in the bp Brussels office and myself will also be on the call. If this day works for you we could fix a time and send out a Teams call invitation. If not we can explore another more suitable day that works for you.

Thanks again and please let me know if you have any questions

Subject: follow-up on EVP meeting with [REDACTED]

Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for helping with the organisation of the meeting between the EVP and the [REDACTED] BP yesterday. EVP appreciated the honest exchange and the willingness of BP to explore possible early deliverables of the Energy Platform.

I wanted to follow up on the offer to organise a meeting between the Platform Executives and experts on your side to discuss possible solutions for LNG gas flows into Europe.

My assistant [REDACTED] will help us find the right date for such a meeting and help with the logistics. The time and date should work with Matthew's and Cristina's agendas.

We look forward to meeting you and your colleagues virtually or in Berlaymont at the earliest possible date.

Best regards

Aleksandra
