Hi [REDACTED].
I'm so sorry but it's taking me longer than expected to recover and I will still be out of office next week. Can we move to next week, perhaps Monday 3pm, and would you be able to come to BERL instead?
Could you arrange it with [REDACTED] (in cc)?
Thanks, Adalbert

Hi,

Actually, it was more for a brainstorm on where the dossier is going, rather than anything 'formal' involving the cabinet.
[REDACTED] (we had a long chat ten days ago) strongly recommended I speak to you to try and see if there are any out-of-the-box approaches which we haven't thought of. So if you've time in March, great! Otherwise April's fine too.

Hi [REDACTED].

Thanks for getting in touch. Sure, I remember you well.

As you must know my Vice-President is currently on electoral leave, so as cabinet we're in hibernation of sorts, and therefore not so closely involved in the LTS business. It may be better for us to meet in early April once the VP is back. Would that work, or is there something urgent?

All the best, Adalbert

Dear Adalbert,

My name's [REDACTED], we met once or twice in the NGO roundtable meetings in Brussels with MAC. I left Friends of the Earth two years ago to join the Rockwool Group, a Danish insulation manufacturer, but I'm still working on the same subjects with the same positions.

I was wondering if you'd have time for a chat about the LTS this week or next?

My impression is that the dossier is going relatively well. The Commission's decision to specifically back climate neutrality by 2050 has made a big difference. The process in the EU Parliament is complex - two resolutions instead of one - but even the EPP is now backing net zero.

But there's no getting away from the fact that we need consensus from heads of state, and I want to be sure that we (collectively) are doing all we can. For example, Poland's new 'clean air programme' is aiming to renovate 3-4 million homes over the next ten years. The LTS can be a door-opener for financing and technical assistance, and this can potentially help the negotiations. There are similar initiatives in other MS, such as Bulgaria. They could be better promoted / linked up with the LTS.

I'm also very interested in what the Commission can do with the Finnish Presidency, which I think it's fair to say is more interested that Tusk and his people in getting HoS sign off for climate neutrality. And at the same time, can more be done to, for instance, get Tusk to see climate action as a good news dossier to counterbalance Brexit and other complicated issues?

Would be great to discuss these and other points!

Best regards,
