The European Commission and Lumos are delighted to invite you to

No child left behind: Families not institutions - EU external action championing children's rights

Brussels, 15 June 2018

European Commission, Charlemagne building

10:30 – 16:00

The conference will be co-hosted by Neven Mimica, European Commissioner for International Cooperation and Development and J.K. Rowling, Founder and President of Lumos. Bringing together the voices of girls and boys, global leaders, leading experts and policy-makers, the conference will explore the EU's role in leaving no child behind, ensuring that all children across the world can realise their right to live in a safe environment within their families and communities.

Join us to promote global leadership in tackling the institutionalisation of children and explore how the EU and the international community can continue to drive and support quality child care and protection reform around the world for the best interests of the children.

Participation will be by invitation only.

Further details, including how to register, to follow.
