Good morning,

Christian would be available for a short meeting tomorrow at 10:00. Would that be feasible on your side, too? Thanks.

Kind regards,

Dear Christian

I hope this finds you well.

I am writing today because the Partner who is globally in charge of [redacted] [redacted] at K&L Gates across the whole firm, [redacted] [redacted], who also [redacted], will be visiting Brussels on Tuesday 10th and Wednesday 11th July. This is not about any particular issue, but more about exchanging first hand views on the situation in the “current Washington DC” in several policy areas, of course including trade; the Trump administration’s current and future plans, the general U.S. political environment a few months before the mid-term elections, as well as getting a better understanding of the “mood” in Brussels.

On that occasion, we are organising a restricted lunch with some people in the policy/business community (that is, there will be some companies I would inform you about, but be reassured, none you “should not sit with”) who may be interested in an informal exchange of views with [REDACTED]. I would be delighted if you could join us for this lunch on Tuesday 10th July, at 1 PM. If so, we will confirm the venue as soon as possible.

Should this not be convenient for you or not possible, it would be great if you would be available for a short meeting on the 10th in the morning.

To clarify, just in case, [REDACTED] is not “representing” the Transatlantic Business Council, but he is also part of the team actually managing it and providing advice to it since K&L Gates assumed it in February .

Looking forward to hearing from you

Kind regards

Ignasi
