Dear Ms [REDACTED]

Thank you for your mail. We cannot share the non-papers at this point in time as they are made with a specific purpose in mind, namely advancing the discussion in Council and Parliament.

However, we are open to meet you next week, either to have a short talk on the phone Wednesday pm. In the first case, please contact MS [REDACTED] to set up a meeting.

Best regards,

Subject: RE: EC non-paper on packets, wrappers and beverage containers

Dear Mr [REDACTED]

Further to the email below, I am writing to you on behalf of FoodDrinkEurope to request a meeting with you and/or Mr Schally.

The food and drink industry needs clear and harmonised definitions to have the legal certainty to invest in packaging innovations for the EU market. Europe's food and drink industry remains committed to working constructively with the Commission to ensure that the proposal contains clear definitions and terms that will allow it to be interpreted and implemented in a harmonised way at national level.

Against that background, we would like to request a meeting with you to gain a better understanding of the terms "packets", "wrappers" and "beverage containers", and to exchange views on "food containers".

I look forward to hearing about your availability at your earliest convenience.

Yours sincerely,

[REDACTED]

Interim Environment Manager

Dear [REDACTED]

Since I do not follow the proposal in detail, I forward your email to my colleague, [REDACTED], who can advise you on that matter.

Dear [REDACTED]

I am writing to you on behalf of FoodDrinkEurope regarding the Single-use plastics proposal as I understand Mr Schally is on holiday this week.

We are aware that the Commission has shared a presentation with the Working Party on Environment on packets, wrappers and beverage containers. Would you be able to share the presentation with FoodDrinkEurope, as it is highly relevant for the food and beverage sector to understand the Commission's understanding of these terms?

In the meantime, we are working on a proposal to refine the definition of food containers and would welcome the possibility to meet or have a phone call with you or another colleague after Tuesday to discuss it further.

Kind regards,

Interim Environment Manager
