

Annex III – Company Profile

Meeting [REDACTED] – Commissioner Oettinger (Basis 5059)

Atos

Atos is a French multinational IT services corporation headquartered in Bezons, France.

Amongst others Atos provides managed IT services, consulting & technology services and IT systems integration. Atos operates under the brands Atos, Atos Healthcare, Atos Consulting & Technology Services, Worldline and Atos Worldgrid.

In 2012 Atos reported revenues of €10 billion and a net income of €224 million. In 2014 Atos had 86,000 employees (worldwide)(source: Wikipedia).

According to a recent IDC study contracted by the Commission, in 2013 Atos was the second largest European private cloud service provider with a 3% market share.

Atos and big data

Atos proposes big data services and technologies through Bull, acquired in 2014 with the specific purpose of covering the big data market: “Bull has a specialized role within Atos, shown in its endorsement: ‘Atos technologies’ mastering technology development with an expertise in big data and security.

The Bull brand launches its Exascale project – forging the bridge between high performance computing, big data and security (including cyber security and mission critical systems) to build computers that can process one billion billion operations per second.

Mayor sub-brands, amongst others (source: company website)

Worldline: A global leader in e-payment transactional services. For tomorrow’s digital experience, see here.

Canopy: Atos also operates under the brand of Canopy (a joint venture between Atos, EMC and VMWare, established in 2012) as a provider for cloud based enterprise solutions. Canopy relies on Atos' cloud based infrastructure, i.e. data centres. Canopy is global player.

In IDC’s Top 10 European Cloud Professional Services Vendor Shares 2013, Canopy was ranked as the number one European cloud services provider based on revenue.

BlueKiwi: An enterprise social software company to become your organization's social business hub.

Atos Consulting: An Atos subsidiary with highly skilled consultants to develop strategic approaches to technology, from innovation to implementation.

Atos Worldgrid: An Atos subsidiary to deliver integration projects and real time Smart Energy solutions to Energy & Utilities companies across the power, water, oil & gas value chains.

Yunano: A joint venture between Atos and Yonyou to offer a new Cloud experience in a safe SaaS environment for ERP and CRM software solutions.