Present: Guenther OETTINGER, Anna HEROLD,
, ATOS

GHO:

- stressed the important role of ATOS; we need global European players. Individual countries / national companies cannot have the scale to compete globally on their own.
- Ambition is to Europeanise EU policy and European industry, but with industry's full involvement
- Commission has a transparent agenda, and our WP for 2015/16 is quite clear (lists GDPR, DSM strategy including copyright, platforms and OTTs; will start ePrivacy review after GDPR....); we need ATOS' advice and input.

GHO:

- agreed with this sentiment. cyber security; SMEs need trust and confidence, for themselves and for their customers. They don't use cloud computing services... So need European standards, and certification, e.g. of NIS willing to update it every year, to set high standards.
- remember DIGIT, we have the EU institutions' networks, they should have the best technology.
- on wider issues, need [REDACTED] experience understand the complexities and how things work, important [REDACTED].

- ECP already worked on SLAs and security; SMEs are constrained from using cloud. So more work needed, but the principle is that non-EU firms can all come, but they have to respect our rules. We have the technologies, have to make sure Europe is strong and protected.

In conclusion, GHO suggested that they should meet again in the autumn, perhaps in Paris or Munich
