

International Bank Regulation Forum

Virtual (Zoom) | Thursday, Dec. 3, 2020, 8:00-12:00 EST

[Zoom Details] 8:00am - 8:05am: Welcome 8:05am-8:20am: Introductory Remarks 8:20am - 9:10am: Impacts of COVID-19 & What it means for Bank Regulation: This session will focus on international regulatory responses during the global pandemic, along with whether, and if yes, how such measures are unwound. The discussion will include lessons learned from the pandemic and what that might mean for the finalization of the Basel III end-game, and to what extent global regulators will re-evaluate the post-Great Financial Crisis construct in the wake of COVID's impact. 9:10am - 10:00am: A look at the Role of Central Banks during COVID and the Disintermediation of Banks: Following instability in markets in September 2019 and March 2020, this panel will look at the extraordinary role that central banks played as market makers of last resort and the lasting impact this may have given the continuing trends in disintermediation of banks. The panel will explore possible causes of this phenomenon, with a focus on liquidity, and whether there are possible solutions. 10:00am - 10:45am: Keynote Speaker 10:45am - 11:35am: Emerging Trends in Banking and what it may mean for Policy: A closer look at integrating climate risks into bank stress-testing: This panel will explore the recommendations from central banks and supervisors for banks to integrate climate risk into their risk management frameworks and in particular for banks to undertake scenario planning. The panel will address the challenges of integrating climate risk into traditional stress-testing frameworks and how scenario analysis can be used most appropriately. 11:35am - 11:45am: CONCLUDING REMARKS [possibly have a participant do a summation as we have done in the past with
