Ansgar,
Thank you for your message. I am afraid I have a meeting to prepare the Commission meeting all afternoon on Monday. Please pass on my apologies.
Michelle

Would this work for you? This would also allow us to catch up again, as we havn't seen each other for so long.

Dear Mr Rothemund,

Thank you for your message; I am afraid that my diary will not allow me to meet with Mr Zubrow tomorrow morning. Please do pass on my apologies.

Yours sincerely,
Michelle Sutton

Dear Ms Sutton,

Dear Ms Sutton,

I hope all is well.

With this email, I wanted to inquire about a possible meeting between you and our Head of Corporate & Regulatory Affairs, Barry Zubrow. We fully appreciate the very short nature of this request, but Richard Kaye (our Head of EMEA Government Affairs) was wondering if you would be interested in (and available) meeting Barry tomorrow, 26th June, at 11.00am (for about 30minutes), in light of current discussions about the Banking Union and the "Likkanen Group".

Barry is in Brussels tomorrow to testify before the members of the Likkanen Group, and we just found out that he will now have some time before he is heading back to London. We thought that maybe a short chat after the testimony would also be of interest to you?

My apologies for this very last-minute inquiry. We of course fully understand if your agenda for tomorrow does not allow for the meeting to take place, but we thought we would get in touch anyway.

Please do not hesitate to get in touch, should you need any further information.

Best regards,
Marc
