Dear [REDACTED],

Thank you for bringing me this good news! We very much appreciate the Commissioner and her team making this happen.

From our side [REDACTED], and [REDACTED] attending [REDACTED] [REDACTED]).

There is also [REDACTED], but [REDACTED] will not join the meeting. [REDACTED] will enter the Berlaymont, pass security and will wait on the ground floor.

I'm attaching your form with all their details. Will you send them their V-passes directly?

May I ask who from the cabinet will join Commissioner Vestager in the meeting?

How do the logistics work when they enter the Berlaymont garage – where do they go from there? I have been to the Berlaymont many times but not to the garage.

Thanks you & regards,

Thank you for your email of 16 of April addressed to Executive Vice-President Margrethe Vestager, in which you request a meeting with her on behalf of [REDACTED] Intel Corporation on April 30. I am pleased to be able to offer a 30-minute meeting slot on Friday 17:00-17:30, as already discussed on the phone.

I would be grateful if you could also let me know the titles of all participants.

For transparency purposes, this meeting will be published in the Transparency Register of the European Commission. Please make sure your organisation is duly registered.

Dear Mr. Jørgensen,

Dear Mr. Stengg,

I am writing to request a meeting for [REDACTED] Intel Corporation, and Commissioner Vestager in Brussels.

[REDACTED] looks forward to discuss the objectives for the European digital transition and the Commission's efforts to boost the processor and semiconductor ecosystem in Europe. The EU is a very important region and market for Intel; we recently announced the acceleration of our investments in Europe by expanding our existing manufacturing operations, as well as investing in a new foundry business in Europe.

[REDACTED] will travel to Brussels on April 30 and would very much appreciate meeting with Commissioner Vestager in person.

We look forward to your response.

Kind regards,

[REDACTED]
