Subject: RE: Request for a meeting to discuss Farm to Fork Strategy measures

Dear [redacted],

We thank you for your message regarding ESSNA's position in the context of the Commission's work on nutrient profiles and front-of-pack nutrition labelling.

Unfortunately, it will not be possible to organise a meeting in the short term due to the workload of the team dealing with the revision of the Food Information to Consumers Regulation.

However, we can assure you that we have taken good note of ESSNA's position, here attached, sent on 3 February 2021 to the Commission in the context of the public feedback on the inception impact assessment.

We can also inform you that during Q4 2021 a 12-week questionnaire-based, online public consultation on the Commission's 'Have your Say' portal will be organised, as well as a set of targeted consultation activities with stakeholders.

For further information regarding the state of play and next steps of the file, we can refer to the slides presented recently by the team to the plenary meeting of the Advisory Group which are available here:

We hope this information is useful and thank you in advance for your understanding,

For future communication, may I kindly ask you to avoid sending the same message to several colleagues and only contact the Unit/person responsible for the topic.

Best regards,

Subject: Request for a meeting to discuss Farm to Fork Strategy measures

Dear [redacted]

I hope you are doing well.

I am contacting you on behalf of the European Specialist Sports Nutrition Alliance \(ESSNA\), the pan-European trade association for the specialist sports and active nutrition sector in Europe. With around 35 members, ESSNA works to raise awareness about the special purpose of sports nutrition products and their role in supporting consumers living healthy and active lifestyles.

Considering your involvement in the European Commission's work on nutrient profiles and front-of-pack nutrition labelling, as part of the Farm to Fork Strategy, we would like to kindly request a meeting to discuss these measures, and take this opportunity to expand on ESSNA's position, as well as the impact these measures may have on our sector.

In this regard, we would be grateful if you could share your availability for a brief virtual meeting on Zoom or Microsoft Teams in the few couple of weeks.

Thank you very much in advance and we look forward to hearing from you.

Kind regards,
